THE LINCOLN STAR

FIFTY-SEVENTH YEAR No. 221

LINCOLN, NEB., TUESDAY MORNING, JUNE 16, 1959

SEVEN CENTS

Judy Brumm Of Lincoln '59 Girls State Governor

By Bill Anderson
Judy Brumm of Lincoln Monday was elected 1959 governor of Nebraska Girls' State as elections followed hot campaigning on the lawns of the University of Nebraska's Love Library.
Judy, representing the Nationalist party, defeated her opponent — Janet Johnson of Ogallala by a narrow margin.
The Nationalists swept 4 state posts, plus seating 3 members on the State Railway Commission. Shirley Johnson of Omaha, named secretary of state, and Bettie Gutmann, also of Omaha, named state auditor, were the only Federalist victories on the state ticket.

Karen Leach Elected
Karen Leach of Ord was elected lieutenant governor to serve with Miss Brumm.

Other state officers elected: treasurer, Mary Lampe of Beatrice; attorney general, Marilyn Stimson of Omaha; and rail commissioners, Lovie Ann Jeffrey of Omaha, Marilyn Larson of Hay Springs and Janet Luschen of Columbus.

Ann Elizabeth Savidge of Omaha was named chief justice of the Supreme Court on the non-political state ballot.

East-West Race

The race for governor, between Janet Johnson of Ogallala and Judy Brumm of Lincoln, was a test of the merits of Nationalist and Federalist party platforms.

Janet's party—the Federalists—presented a 3-point platform:

1. Health, Education and Welfare—(a) Equality between races, (b) raising the qualifications for rural teachers and (c) aid to the handicapped.

2. Safety—(a) Compulsory drivers' training, (b) renewal of drivers' tests every 4 years and (c) enforcement of liquor and cigarette laws.

3. Girls' State—(a) Revision of the Girls' State manual, (b) Fewer hot days and less wind and (c) closer association in educational and recreational programs with Boys' State.

4-Point Program

The Nationalists — Judy's party—proposed a 4-point program:

1. Education—(a) Enrichment of curriculum and (b) higher qualification of teachers.

2. Taxation—Equalization of assessment ratios.

3. Reform—(a) Better mental health program and (b) more rigid parole regulations.

4. Girls' State—(a) Consolidation of Boys' and Girls' State, and (b) air conditioning of the dormitory building.

Bonnie Benda of Scottsbluff was announced as the top scorer in the annual Girls' State test on government. Bonnie, who scored 97 of a possible 100 points, led the list of the top 10.

The other 9, in ranking order, are: Janet Jean Meyers of Omaha, 96½; Virginia Aandahl of Lincoln, 96; Betty Peterson of Lyman, 96; Christian Potter of Gothenburg, 94½; Marilyn Stimson of Omaha, 94½; Nancy Rhoad-armer of Overton, 94; Sandra Sue Zimmer of Kearney, 94½; Marilyn Moore of Sutherland, 94; Judy Ann Brumm of Lincoln, 94; and Carolyn Sue Rerucha of Seward, 94.

Mrs. McVicker Speaks
Mrs. William J. McVicker of Lincoln, former secretary of Girls' State and past department president of the American Legion Auxiliary spoke at an afternoon general assembly.

District Judge Paul White spoke on "An Introduction to Nebraska Courts" at the evening assembly.

Tuesday sessions include inaugural ceremonies for the new officers and a visit to the unicameral, as well as addresses by state officials. The annual Girls' State reunion banquet will be held in the evening with Miss Vicky Cullen, 1958 Girls' Stater as guest speaker.

JOHN C. SMITH

Omahan John C. Smith Governor Of Boys State

By Charles Beal
John C. Smith, 17-year-old Omaha South High School junior became the 19th governor of Cornhusker Boys State Monday as his Federalist Party swept 8 of the 9 state political offices.

The son of Mrs. Emily Smith of Omaha, John became the first Negro to be elected governor, Boys State observers said.

He gathered strength early Monday and apparently had a better organized party behind him by election time than did defeated Nationalist gubernatorial candidate John Connor of Fremont.

Solid Support
Support for Smith's platform was so solid that the Federalist Party caucus Monday morning was concluded an hour before the Nationalist Caucus began to make headway in compromising on planks to be included in the party platform, observers said.

The Federalists delivered the killing pre-election blow just before lunch time.

With the Nationalist party members frantically haggling over whether to advocate a state sales, income or property tax, the Federalists hoisted Smith on their shoulders, marched en masse to the Nationalist Camp in the Ag Engineering Building and burst upon the already confused Nationalists to the fanfare of 4 blaring trumpeters.

By the time the Nationalists had recovered from this surprise attack on their camp it was lunchtime and strong political fervor gave way to hunger pangs, with the Nationalists still not unanimous on a platform.

Blitzed
After lunch, Connor worked like a beaver to consolidate Nationalist ranks but at 3:30 p.m. when the votes were in the Nationalists had been blitzed.

Smith won on a platform which included:

—Consolidation of school districts in the state where at all possible.

—Lowering of the voting age to 18.

—Legalization of bingo with proceeds going to charitable institutions and bingo law enforcement responsibility in the hands of the attorney general.

—Continual practice of "100% Americanism."

Sport Shirts
—Wearing of sport shirts to the Thursday evening dance with Girls Staters instead of the Boys State T-shirt and cap to "better please the girls."

In elaborating on the planks in his platform, Smith said that "if American boys are capable of learning the parts of the M-1 rifle and sub-machine gun, they should be able to vote after their courses on American government given in the senior year of high school."

Smith said that under the present voting age of 21, that 21-year-olds often lose touch

LONG RULING DELAYED

—Berlin Deadlock— Conferees Call Geneva Recess

Geneva (AP)—The Big Four ministers recessed Monday night until midweek after running into a total deadlock on the Berlin issue. Western officials predicted the conference would break up within a week.

Scooter Bill Death Lamented

Cushman Chief 'Discouraged'

A bill which would have licensed 14 and 15-year-olds to operate motor scooters in Nebraska failed by two votes to pass on final reading in the Legislature Monday, an outcome termed very discouraging by a Lincoln businessman whose company is the major manufacturer of motor scooters.

Robert Ammon, president of Cushman Motor Works, said he had "no comment" late Monday on the rumor that Cushman might build its proposed new $4 million plant, originally planned for Lincoln, in some other state.

Asked if Cushman would continue its present operations in Lincoln if the proposed new plant were cancelled here, Ammon said, I wouldn't think so, because our type of manufacturing makes a one-unit operation more desirable.

Ammon confirmed only that if there were any change in the location, it would be to a southern state where supplies and markets are more readily accessible than those in Nebraska, although he added, "We do like the class of employees in Nebraska."

Much Controversy
The stormy bill, LB584, introduced by Sens. David Tews of Norfolk, Stan Portschke of Lincoln and John Munnely of Omaha, has been the source of much controversy throughout its life in the Legislature.

Just before the bill was taken on final reading Monday, Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha moved to return it to select file to strike the enacting clause, but this motion lost on a 14-19 vote.

The Omaha senator said Monday if the bill were passed some child or grandchild of a member of this Legislature would be injured or killed before the next Legislature.

Proper Training
Sen. Tews, answered, "We all know that 14 and 15-year-olds are now operating these motor scooters and if anyone is killed or injured it will be because they weren't properly trained as they would be under this bill."

LB584 provided that persons under 16 must be licensed before they could operate motor scooters or motorcycles of 5 horsepower or less, and that they must pass a training program before they could be licensed.

Operation permits also would be limited to driving to and from school or using the scooters in the delivery of newspapers.

Sen. Tews said he would move to have the Legislature reconsider its action and try to raise the bill for final passage.

Soviet Foreign Minister
Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko stalked grim-faced out of a crucial secret session, leaving the Western ministers behind to debate how to wind up the 6-week conference without setting off a new international crisis.

The next secret session is scheduled Wednesday.

Final Choice

Western informants said Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, British foreign secretary Selwyn Lloyd, and French Minister Maurice Couve de Murville now must decide whether to make a last-ditch try for agreement or simply draft a final communiqué.

Gromyko's unyielding attitude at the 2-hour and 35-minute session, according to Western spokesmen, gave no encouragement whatever that the Soviets would back off on their demand for a one-year deadline for Allied occupation of West Berlin.

One responsible Western official said the conference had reached a total impasse.

This source added the foreign ministers now are trying to find a way to wind up the conference.

Parley Portents
Collapse of the Big Four parley could doom prospects of an early summit meeting and raise anew the danger of an East-West collision over Berlin.

Herter and Couve de Murville were reported set to end the conference unless Gromyko backed off on his demand for a one-year deadline on the Berlin occupation.

Lloyd showed more readiness to prolong the conference in hopes of obtaining even a limited agreement on Berlin.

SUN BRINGS 100-DEGREE NOTCH CLOSE

Old Man Mercury zipped to torrid 99 at Norfolk Monday as every reporting station in Nebraska listed highs into the 90s.

More of the same is forecast for Tuesday, with little precipitation in sight, and temperatures ranging from 80 to the 90s.

Lincoln hit a high of 94 Monday after a low of 68.

Gov. Earl Long tells newsmen "I'm still in jail," as he is returned to confinement in Galveston's John Sealy Hospital following a hearing on his habeas corpus petition.

Lottery Vote Plan Dies

By Betty Person

A bill proposing a constitutional amendment which would permit the Legislature to authorize lottery or gift enterprises filed by one vote on final reading Monday to receive the 26 votes required to place the matter before the voters in 1960.

When it became evident LB611 had failed to get the constitutional majority it needed, Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, changed his vote from "aye" to "nay" for purposes of reconsideration, making the final vote 24-18.

The measure was one of 13 acted upon on final reading in the Legislature's Monday session which convened at 2 p.m., 11 of the bills were passed and two failed.

Brand Area Bill Dies

The afternoon session also saw the demise of the controversial brand area bill LB157. Sen. Hans Jensen of Aurora made the motion to kill the bill which had been requested by the Nebraska Stockgrowers Association at its meeting last week in Lincoln.

Before the motion was approved 23-11, Sen. Dwain Williams of Broken Bow also supported Jensen's motion to kill and read a letter from the Nebraska Brand Committee which asked that the controversial measure be indefinitely postponed.

In other action Monday, Sen. John Cooper of Humboldt, moved successfully to include Liquor Commission Secretary Walter Haase in a pay raise bill designed to hike the salary of the Railway Commission secretary.

Haase would receive a $500 increase making an annual salary of $7,000, under LB729.

Sen. Joe Vosoba of Wilber moved successfully to amend LB365 to direct that the responsibility for co-ordinating the state's activities in the field of atomic energy with that of the federal government be placed under the governor rather than the state health director.

The bills passed on final reading (E denotes emergency clause) were:

LB204 (Judiciary): harmonizing certain laws relating to game and fish, and outlining procedure for deposit of Game Commission money in the State Game Fund, passed 40-0.

LB378 (Romans): validating all certificates of public convenience and all permits which were issued prior to July 1, 1949, without notice and hearing and without finding of public convenience and necessity, (E), passed 35-4.

LB706 (Government): Nebraska Local Hospital District Act, providing for the formation of local districts through petition and election, requiring that assessed valuation of such district must be a minimum of $3 million, and authorizing board of directors to levy an annual tax of not to exceed one mill, passed 39-1.

LB342 (Burbach, Bowen, Olinger): relating to public assistance and providing that a claim against any person for support, maintenance, care or burial shall have a lien on real estate owned by the recipient, passed 40-1.

LB425 (Gerdes, Marvel, Jensen): transferring from the Division of Nebraska Resources to the Game Commission the responsibility for recreational areas and facilities and requiring the Commission to advertise and promote the scenic, historic and outdoor recreational values and attractions of the state, (E), passed 39-1.

LB418 (Cooper, Burbach, Romans): increasing the rate which may be paid for publishing the proceedings of the county board from one-half the legal rate to three-fourths the legal rate, passed 41-9.

LB604 (Lautenschlager at the request of governor): the implied consent law relative to requiring certain chemical tests when arrested for drunken driving, and providing for revocation of drivers' licenses in prescribed circumstances, (E), passed 30-4.

LB703 (Judiciary): increasing from $5 to $8 a day the maximum compensation that may be paid to holders of district courts in counties of 60,000 population or less, passed 40-1.

Cops Comb Woods For 2 Desperadoes

Middleboro, Mass. (AP)—Three dozen heavily armed state troopers, guided by an Air Force helicopter, closed in late Monday on a pocket of rough woodland hunting two brothers wanted for questioning in the slaying of a Philadelphia policeman.

The helicopter signalled the ground forces that it had spotted the pair, identified as John Coyle, 23, and his brother, William, 21, about a half mile from a major highway.

The crack troopers were the spearhead of a force of some 350 state and local police who swept into the area after the pair allegedly robbed a highway liquor store of $112.

Two observers who saw the robbers flee followed their car down a dirt road. The bandits abandoned the vehicle and fled on foot.

In the back seat remained William Sedgwick, 49, of Philadelphia—who had been kidnapped by the pair in his own car, and locked part of the time in the trunk. He was half starved and in a state of collapse from nervous exhaustion.

He had been kidnapped near his office June 6, the day after two gunmen shot patrolman William F. Kane, 35, to death, as he walked his north Philadelphia beat.

Police said the Coyle brothers had an apartment near the scene of the slaying.

"I believe it would be better if I didn't testify, I sometimes get a little excited."

Should Godard rule Long is being held against his will, Long might go free. But reliable informants told the Associated Press members of the Long family have the stage set for possible commitment of the sulphur-tongued governor in Louisiana's East Baton Rouge Parish (county).

Los Angeles (UPI)—William J. Waltz who recently declined $40,000 due him from various sources because he thought money is a nuisance, said Monday he had given the money away.

"Then they stopped and left the car."

Sedgwick said his wife was coming here. They have two teenaged boys.

"I never saw two more welcome policemen," he said. "I thought a ny minute they'd put a gun to my head and kill me."

Sedgwick said the pair took over his car at gunpoint. "After we got out of the city they tied me and gagged me and put me in the trunk."

"The first few days they gave me a sandwich now and then but after that they gave me nothing."

session. The sanity hearing was moved back one week.

Godard told attorneys he was sorry he couldn't give the decision Monday, but "that is impossible."

Sen. Russell Long (D-La.), the governor's nephew and the late Huey P. Long's son, disagreed with Judge Godard's decision.

"It seems to me a very crucial point has been overlooked," he said.

Sen. Long refused to elaborate, saying with a smile: "I didn't come here for publicity."

But, Sen. Long's appearance at Monday's hearing and his conference with judge and attorneys had obvious political implications, heightened by Sen. Long's pending decision on running for Louisiana governor.

Gov. Long recognized these implications during idle chatter in the courtroom. He looked up at his nephew and said:

"How much will you charge to run?"

No Reply From Senator
As he did when Gov. Long said something emphatically earlier to him, Sen. Long didn't reply.

The governor—who acted quietly compared to many of his roaring appearances in the Louisiana Legislature—said nothing at all in the courtroom after the ruling calling for a week's further detention. He put on his hat calmly and walked to his car.

Gov. Long surprised many an observer earlier in the afternoon by heeding his attorneys' pleas and deciding not to testify.

His habeas corpus petition claimed he was removed by force from his executive mansion in Baton Rouge, La., May 30. Most people expected Gov. Long, noted for his argumentative outbursts, to seize this occasion for some verbal blasting. But, instead, he told Judge Godard:

Decides Not To Testify

President May Go Over Congress' Head

BACKING OF PUBLIC IS SOUGHT

Washington (P) — President Eisenhower may open a speaking campaign to rally the nation behind his labor, foreign aid and other proposals.

This was a announced Monday by Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, the Republican national chair man, after a White House conference with Sen. Morton the President.

Morton said Eisenhower is considering possible radio-TV appeals and perhaps a series of speeches away from the capital.

Morton smilingly told newsmen: "I'd like to use the big gun as often as I can. I think he is the best salesman the Republican Party has got."

Informed of Morton's remarks, Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said the Republicans "seem to be getting a little frightened—not so much as to the legislative program as to the elections of 1960."

Johnson Not Impressed

As for Morton's reference to Eisenhower as "the big gun" of the GOP, Johnson observed tartly that "we saw all of the big guns in 1958." What he meant was that despite active campaigning by Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon last fall, the Democrats added to their majorities in both House and Senate.

Morton went to see Eisenhower to report on Republican prospects as he assessed them after visiting various sections of the country, but Morton said he and the President talked more about the current situation in Congress than they did about the election battles ahead.

Eisenhower is going to "have to exert pressure to get what he wants" from the Democratic-controlled Congress in such fields as foreign aid and labor legislation, the GOP chairman said.

MS Drive Makes Good Progress

Satisfactory progress is being made in a local drive against multiple sclerosis, according to Jack Campbell, chairman of the Lincoln chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

"At this rate we should garner a total between $4,500 and $5,000 by June 21," Campbell said. June 21 has been chosen as the last day of the drive by the National Society.

Campbell said that about 500 persons were working during the drive soliciting funds door to door and distributing packages to be passed around the block and picked up a week later.

DUV Climaxing 4-Day Meeting

The Daughters of Union Veterans will climax a 4-day convention being held at the Lincoln Hotel with the installation of officers Tuesday.

Tuesday's agenda also includes a talk by National Representative Dena Smith of Oklahoma, and the presentation of awards for scrapbooks compiled during the year by members.

A special feature of yesterday's activity was the welcome given by Mayor Bartlett E. Boyles to the Granddaughters of Union Veterans at the Granddaughter Breakfast, and the election of Beverly Kinnison as president of the Granddaughters.

Boys State Governor Versatile

By Charles Beal

The 17-year-old Negro boy spoke slowly and earnestly as he outlined with care the points which he wished to have included in the "Federalist" platform which he was chosen by his fellow delegates to formulate.

Later, John C. Smith, was to see these points become "law" when he and his Federalist party mates were overwhelmingly elected to office.

Son of Mrs. Emily Smith of Omaha, John is a member of the Omaha South High School Student Council and vice president of the Press Club.

When asked to name his favorite high school subjects, he hesitated, then slowly began, "... history, debate, Latin — oh heck, I like them all!"

The statement is indicative of the young governor's versatility. He is past winner of the University of Nebraska Press Conference award in news writing and won a 3rd place news writing award in the Omaha University contest.

John Connor
Defeated gubernatorial candidate John Connor of Fremont bemoaned Monday his Nationalist Party's failure to get together on issues before the election.

The dark-haired youth spoke with poise and knowledge as he described his reaction to his day-old candidacy.

Change Asked In Early Release Of GI Teachers

Washington — Rep. Phil Weaver Monday called for a change in an Army regulation "which allows a serviceman early release to take a teaching job, but at the same time denies him the opportunity to obtain the job."

In a letter to Maj. Gen. R. V. Lee, adjutant general of the Army, Weaver said that in order to obtain a good teaching position, a serviceman must be available for interview by school officials before July 1.

Weaver suggested that Army regulations be made more flexible in light of that situation.

Now, the First District Republican said, a teacher must show proof of employment, but is denied that opportunity by Army regulations.

Your local drugstore or an itinerant's kit?

Suppose you needed medicine urgently and, to get it, had a choice between the familiar drugstore and a house-to-house salesman's kit. The decision is pretty plain, isn't it?

The parallel between this situation and the purchase of vitamins from an itinerant huckster is not far-fetched. Vitamins are medicinal products. There are many different vitamins and they come in various potencies.

In view of this, the wisdom of professional guidance in buying vitamins becomes obvious.

Besides, your pharmacist is here to stay. He's trained to meet your medicinal requirements.

LANCASTER COUNTY PHARMACEUTICAL SOCIETY

PENSION REFORM BILL OK'D

... By House, 226-34

Washington (P) — A bill boosting benefits for veterans with non-service connected disabilities was passed by the House Monday amid scattered protests that it was being rushed through too fast.

The measure was approved by a 226-34 standing vote. It now goes to the Senate where speedy passage also is expected.

A sliding scale for pensions based on outside income is one of the major provisions of the bill. Payments would range from $40 to $90 a month for veterans, and from $25 to $65 for their widows, plus $15 for each dependent.

In order to be eligible a single pensioner without dependents must not have more than $1,800 in annual income. The ceiling for pensioners with dependents was set at $3,000.

Increase For 70

Chairman Olin E. Teague (D-Tex) of the House Veterans Committee said the bill would provide increased benefits for 70% of the 1,250,000 veterans and widows now participating in the program. In addition, 72,000 veterans and 205,600 widows not now eligible for benefits because their income is too high, would be brought under the program, he said.

The present plan provides payments of $66.15 a month for veterans under 64 and $78.75 for those 65 or over. Widows receive $50.50. The existing income ceiling is $1,400 for single pensioners and $2,700 for those with dependents.

The House-passed bill insures that no one now receiving a pension will suffer any cut in payments because of the sliding scale provision, Teague said.

Crazed Youth Draws Siege

Charleston, Ill. (P) — More than 100 policemen and state troopers armed with tear gas surrounded a small house where a berserk young gunman held his half-sister hostage Monday night, demanding that a policeman he hated be brought so he could kill him.

Police Chief Smokey Pauley of Charleston said the gunman, Kenneth Eugene Adkins, 22, threatened to kill his half sister, Myra Irene Kennedy, 30, if authorities tried to rush the one-story frame house.

While a throng of thousands in this central Illinois city were held two blocks away, lawmen waited in darkness, afraid to turn on searchlights for fear of alarming Adkins.

Won't Rush House
"We'll wait him out, Pauley said. He said he hoped Adkins would fall asleep, allowing the woman to escape.

Pauley and a clergyman made several trips to the door of the house and tried to reason with Adkins, but failed.

Adkins armed with a shotgun and a rifle, ordered that Police Capt. Logan Cox be brought to the house, explaining he wanted to kill the lawman and then shoot himself.

Tugboat Strike Throttles N.Y.'s Foodstuffs Supply

New York (P) — A wildcat strike of tugboat engineers Monday throttled the movement of food shipments and other vital freight across New York harbor to the city's markets.

All but 6 of a fleet of 46 tugboats which handle freight barges for 10 railroads were idle at the piers.

The city called union and railroad representatives into a night session to seek means to end the walkout.

Late Monday night, however, the meetings broke up after city officials failed to secure a temporary truce. It appeared the walkout would continue Tuesday.

The stoppage, which came without union authorization and in defiance of a federal court injunction, cut to a dribble the water-borne flow of perishables and other goods to Manhattan.

Quits School Board

Little Rock, Ark. (P) — A new member of the Little Rock School Board quit his post Monday night, saying he was unqualified to serve. H. L. Hubbard said he had discovered since his appointment last week that he was ineligible to serve. He did not elaborate.

Dominican Uprising Is Reported

Havana (P) — Dominican exiles here said Monday an armed uprising has started against the government of Gen. Rafael Trujillo.

Radio Voice of the Dominicans, operated by exiles violently hostile to Trujillo, said a broadcast from the Dominican Republic reported a rebel force ambushed a truckload of soldiers on a mountain road about 25 miles from Ciudad de la Vega in the northern Constanza region of the Dominican Republic.

The broadcast, the local Dominicans said, described the ambush as a "complete success, killing some (soldiers) and putting others to flight."

The exiles gave no indication of the size of the uprising.

The Miami (Fla.) Herald telephoned Manuel Del Moya, Dominican ambassador to the United States, at Ciudad Trujillo and quoted him as saying "everything is absolutely calm here. We don't know anything about the reported ambush of government troops. Perhaps you should ask Fidel Castro about it."

Del Moya added "the Dominican government has a very good communication system with villages in the mountains, and we haven't heard anything like that."

City Line, Water, Light Depts. Granted Pay Raises

By Nancy Shirley

The City Council Monday approved a resolution granting salary increases to Line Department and City Water and Light Dept. employees, and referred another salary-increase proposal to Personnel Director Ray Ramsay for study.

City Line Dept. employees received pay boosts ranging from a 12-cent hourly increase for the line superintendent to a 6-cent hourly increase for groundmen. Plant superintendent of the Water and Power plant received a monthly increase of $25, and the assistant superintendent's salary was upped $20 a month. Employees paid by the hour received increases from 8 to 6 cents.

The other salary increase proposal, presented by the City Employees Assn. acting for all city employees, requested a $25 a month across-the-board increase. The proposal, if passed, would affect some 660 city employees.

The Council and Mayor Pat Boyles received the request in a letter from N. W. Beezley, president of the CEA. Beezley's letter said in part:

Letter From Beezley
"We have always been especially mindful of the fact that the general public thinks of City government not just as so many fire trucks, police cars, miles of pavement and pipe lines or stacks of record books, but also as the people whose daily task it is to maintain, operate and administer these vital facilities.

"The city clearly has an obligation to provide and maintain an adequate staff of employees in all departments equal to the needs of the citizenry for governmental services.

Beezley cited the increasing difficulty of obtaining and keeping skilled workers, and said:

"The CEA board of directors firmly believes that the pressing need to provide additional physical plant improvements over the past few years has caused the city to fall behind in making substantial adjustments in salary rates necessary to keep abreast of rising living costs and pay scales in other businesses and agencies with whom the city must compete for employees."

Boosts Last 2 Years

Records show that the employees requesting this raise received pay boosts in 1958-59, and 1957-58. They received no pay increase in 1956-57, however. The requested pay increase would cost the city nearly $200,000 a year.

The Council also approved the construction of the controversial 52nd and Francis bridge with the agreement that the Sanitary District would construct two much-needed drainage projects. The Sanitary District's share of the $140,000 project includes construction of drainage ditches from 48th northwest to Salt Creek, and from 47th and Holdrege to Dead Man's Run.

In other action, the Council appointed Councilman Dell Tyrrell to represent them on the Park and Recreation Board. The 11-man committee advises the Council in matters pertaining to parks and recreation.

The City Council Monday officially rescinded its action granting the continuance of the Centennial Mall on a temporary basis. The Council's action, requested by the Downtown Development Corp. in a letter to the Council, followed the actual removal of the Mall, which took place last Thursday.

Nail Cleaning Bloody Sport

One city employee received special notice in the City Safety report for the month of May.

The unidentified worker received the "Accident of the Month Award" when he cut his hand on a knife.

The worker came into contact with the knife blade while laying a paper down beside a man who was cleaning his fingernails.

The overall record for the month showed 15 injuries in May, including 9 in the Fire Department. Total injuries from Sept. 1 to June 1 number 112, with the Health Dept. still maintaining a perfect record.

LAFB Council Gets Verbal Pat From AF

Lincoln was given a verbal pat on the back Monday by a civilian employee of the Air Force.

Howard Beresford of Denver Colo., community relations specialist, told members of the city council that the success of the Lincoln Air Base Coordinating Council was "a credit to your fine city."

Beresford said that the Lincoln plan, intended to integrate activities of the Air Base and the community, has been incorporated into Air Force rules, and is used as a guide for other communities.

The Air Base Coordinating Council began its operations in 1952 at the beginning of the reactivation of LAFB. The Council was officially set up by an ordinance of the City Council in 1952.

Drunk Ordinance Action Postponed

The City Council has postponed action on an ordinance which would remove the jail sentence as a maximum penalty for persons convicted of simple intoxication. The matter was held over by the Council to give the Lincoln Bar Assn. time to submit specific proposals on the bill.

The proposed ordinance was scheduled for 3rd reading at the Monday meeting of the Council. It would not apply to drunken driving offenses. The code on intoxication now permits a fine up to $100 or a jail term up to 6 months, or both.

Terry Wants Settlement Out Of Court

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff asked the state Department of Roads Monday to look into the possibility of an out-of-court settlement of his condemnation litigation involving a filling station at Alliance.

Carpenter brought the district court action on grounds he was not offered adequate reimbursement for filling station property needed by the state for highway right of way, and damages resulting from loss of the property.

In a letter to State Engineer Roy L. Cochran, a copy of which was released to newsmen, Carpenter suggested that department attorneys meet with Carpenter's attorney, Jack Lyman of Scottsbluff, "to determine if some practical and logical compromise could not be accomplished."

"Part of the reason for this request is that I propose to either sell or close up the operation as the profit element has been materially reduced for some reason," Carpenter wrote. "It might be possible that the state might have use for all of the property and a settlement could be arrived at for a purchase of the entire property rather than the damages that might have accrued."

Mrs. K. R. Jones, Wymore, Is Dead

A Burlington Railroad employee in Lincoln from 1921 to 1930, Edwards reportedly was hit from behind by a passenger train locomotive while signalling a switch engine.

Atchison County Coroner Harold Dyer ruled the death accidental.

Edwards had served as yardmaster at Atchison since 1945.

To All Nebraskans 65 Years Of Age and Older.....

FROM The Nebraska Hospital Association
The Nebraska State Medical Association

We hear a great deal today about adequate hospital and medical coverage for persons reaching retirement age—those who are 65 years of age and older.

AGE IS NO BARRIER to Nebraska Blue Cross — Blue Shield... and it never has been!

Although there is no contractual obligation to do so, it has been a firm, well-established policy of Blue Cross-Blue Shield not to terminate coverage because of age or deterioration in the member's health. This means that any person joining Blue Cross-Blue Shield before reaching age 65 can continue membership with regular benefits after reaching age 65, regardless of the amount of hospital and medical care required.

In 1958 alone Nebraska Blue Cross-Blue Shield paid over $725,000 to hospitals and doctors for care of persons 65 years of age and older. Over 13,000 persons holding non-group membership in Nebraska are 60 years of age and older.

Being FIRST is second nature with Nebraska Blue Cross-Blue Shield... FIRST to solve the problem of adequate health coverage during the retirement years for persons joining before they became age 65; and the FIRST Blue Cross-Blue Shield Plan to offer agreements for persons joining after they became 65 years of age.

THESE "65 AND OVER" AGREEMENTS WERE INTRODUCED BY NEBRASKA BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD SEVERAL YEARS AGO.

In April of this year the benefits of the "65 AND OVER" agreements were expanded... at no increase in cost.

Time For Integrity

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The state Legislature will begin action this week on one of the most important issue of its current session. It is an issue which will have a lasting influence upon this state and its citizens, particularly the younger citizens who are just now acquiring the education they will need for the future.

The measure, of course, is the bill which includes the more than $25 million budget of the University of Nebraska. Not that the university budget is the only important item in the proposed fiscal program for 1959-61 but it will be one of most controversial and one on which a great deal hinges. It doesn't seem as though the budget will get off to a very good start, thanks to Sen. Terry Carpenter. The senator is entitled to approach the measure as he sees fit but it is possible that his effort to cut off debate on the budget may light the fuse of a quarrelsome episode.

It would be surprising if the senators found much support in his position — the assertion that the budget should be approved, as is, because the committee which recommended it knows more about it than the other senators. This is true at this point and Carpenter's view of the thing is not without good logic.

But common sense should tell him that any senator with a real feeling of responsibility is not going to want to rubber-stamp the work of any committee, much less such an important work as this. The rubber stamp comes into play often enough without being advocated as a legitimate tool for use in the disposition of all matters.

The approximate $5 million increase proposed for the university's budget is about the minimum for that institution if Nebraska wants to keep its facilities on a par with the rest of the nation. But a drive to approve the increase without so much as an explanation from the committee would be a good way to have the appropriation cut down.

It is believed that a majority of the senators will clearly see the need for this increase when they have all the facts before them. They should become convinced when they see the number of first-rate faculty members who have left Nebraska for little reason other than salaries. If this doesn't do it, a comparative analysis of Nebraska's salary scale should accomplish the desired results.

It is a choice for every university today either to keep its standards up or suffer the consequences. The consequences are not very pleasant — a limited program, a second-rate faculty, a sub-standard curriculum, dwindling research, failing influence and ineffective atmosphere. Out of all of this and more comes a student, regardless of capabilities, unable to meet his competition in life.

These are considerations which are above and beyond the smallness of politics and personalities. They are beyond prejudices and grudges and it will be a sad day for the state if budget discussions and decisions are not made on the high level they deserve. It will be a day which not just state senators but every person in the state will live to regret.

The University of Nebraska is the last place where the state can afford to economize. Money need not be lavished on the university—and the newly proposed budget would not do this—but every other increase in the whole state budget should be cut before funds are taken from the new proposal, and this includes a lot of worthwhile projects. It is hoped that the move by Carpenter does not get the budget issue into a partisan and personal debate between individuals or groups within the Legislature.

A vote against the approval of the budget without discussion should in no way affect future actions of the Legislature. A senator so voting may well, in the final rounds of this subject, be one of the most ardent backers of the increased appropriation. But he would be a rather peculiar person if he didn't even want to look at what he was buying.

The administration bases its observation on the fact that the public is liquidating its saving bonds where the interest limit presently is 4 1/4 per cent. The net liquidation has been going on at a rate of a quarter of a billion a month. The money is going into the stock market when it is not being used to balance out the cost of living. The money is going into the stock market because the public sees in common stocks a way to stay abreast of inflation. And there is the key to the whole thing. The savings bond public is more concerned with the vitiation of principle than with the return on the investment.

When the government breaks the interest line it will stimulate inflation and will not cure its debt refunding problem. What is better indicated at this stage is a direct attack on inflation itself. For if that dangerous phenomenon is curbed these other problems will disappear. But Washington is flinching from the fact.

Nebraska has had another disturbing report. The standing water left by the May downpours are producing mosquitoes in dangerous number. Among them are the kind that convey encephalitis. This is the proper time to fix those gentlemen. Several individuals suffering from encephalitis may not match a world crisis as a subject, but it is a lot more important to the unfortunate victim and to the Nebraskan who may become a victim.

of course, to have certain financial interest to make a determination on housing. The type of housing available, for instance, is no more important than the type of housing that can be afforded.

Also, place of residence is no more important than desire. The city hopes to determine not only the housing limitations placed upon minority groups by the community, but the limitations, if any, the minority seeks to impose upon itself. Perhaps there is none of the latter but such has long been the contention of those who seek to maintain the status quo.

This is one, among many, uncertainties which will be cleared up by this survey. When this work is completed, if carried out as now hoped and planned, Lincoln will know where its problem exists, exactly what it consists of and how serious it is. This is why the co-operation of minority groups is important. Without this co-operation, the survey will be either a complete flop or a false report. Either of these eventualities would set any improvement back for many long years. Officials involved have kept faith with the minority groups by proceeding with this program without needless delay. It would be as unfortunate as it is unexpected to see the program disrupted at this stage by the affected groups.

Bearable

Just as if the world hasn't enough problems we now get a complaint from the Paris clothing designers that the men in the world are becoming poorer dressers all the time and don't seem to care. All we can say to that is that it is the most bearable of all the current crises.

Strauss Supporters Pour On The Coal

Washington—A significant secret meeting with Adm. Lewis Strauss and Chairman John McCone of the Atomic Energy Commission took place recently to discuss whether Strauss could be confirmed as secretary of Commerce. Members of the White House staff were also present.

Strauss confessed that his hopes of confirmation looked dim. Since he wasn't going to tolerate the humility of defeat, he considered the possibility of having his name withdrawn.

This brought vigorous opposition from other conferees. They pointed out that the President had stuck out his neck by saying he would not withdraw Strauss's name.

"How are we going to break this news to the President?" one of them asked. Final decision was that a superhuman effort would be made to swing wavering senators into line and apply lobbying pressure on others to change their minds.

This meeting was what preceded one of the most intensive personal lobbying campaigns ever seen on Capitol Hill. It has been so intense that Sen. Howard Cannon of Nevada suggested a Senate probe.

"I have heard of the most severe and coarse pressures being applied on individual senators," he said.

Here is part of the lobbying pressure to which Sentor Cannon referred.

Pressure No. 1—Out of the clear blue, much-revered Baron Robert Silvercruys, ambassador of Belgium, got a phone call from Admiral Strauss. Silvercruys has nothing to do with American politics, but happens to be married to the lovely widow of the late Sen. Brien McMahon of Connecticut who played a key role in developing the hydrogen bomb.

McMahon had written a 5,000-word letter to President Truman urging development of the bomb, but when Baroness Silvercruys asked permission to publish the letter, Strauss refused. He has claimed credit for the H-bomb himself, and some critics have pointed out that publication of the McMahon letter would have refuted this.

Pressure No. 2—Occurred at John L. Lewis's United Mine Workers headquarters. Admiral Strauss called in person on the bushy-eyed, brooding miner boss, urged him to swing the two West Virginia senators into line. Strauss argued that he was the man who put an embargo on residual oil imports into the USA which were hurting West Virginia coal.

Lewis promptly got busy, sent word to Sens. Bob Byrd and Jennings Randolph, two good West Virginia Democrats, to change their votes. They had been against Strauss. Now Randolph is for him and Byrd is wavering.

LA VERNA HASSLER

Patchwork Prairie Country

It was her birthday yesterday and she was six years old. It's the age of dolls and high-heeled shoes, with a decided love for pets. Since she had the dolls, complete with bottles, buggy and clothes, I thought she would get much pleasure from a pet. The pet took form in the shape of a parakeet which I purchased on our trip to Lincoln last week.

That proved to be a very exciting day. I waited until a half hour before we were ready to leave for home before selecting it, then not wanting to waste a minute of shopping time, I roamed about the store. Gingerly I carried the little box along with several other packages. Every few seconds the bird would sing, causing all the people to turn and look at me as if to say, "Are you a bird caller?"

On one occasion I chose to sing its loudest on the Escalator. All those going up and down were looking overhead as if certain they had heard a bird. Not seeing anything resembling a bird, they looked at me from whence the source of noise was originating. It was one time when a bird in the hand was not worth two in the bush.

For two days it refused to utter one peep in our home where we were keeping it until the birthday arrived. It just sat in the corner and moped, hopping on the perch only to eat.

The Farmer, thinking it was lonesome for its fine feathered friends, hung a mirror onto the cage where it could see its reflection. Then we had two birds that sat in the corner and moped.

Suddenly one day it chirped, which I encouraged by answering. From then on our friendship grew, for it greeted me when I opened the door to enter the house and called again whenever I was not in the room. I never let it out of the cage but it seemed perfectly happy answering the birds outside the window or warbling to me. By the time the day arrived for it to be given to its new owner, I had become very much attached to it. But when I saw the sparkle in a little girl's eyes and heard her childish laughter, I knew I had made a fair exchange.

Haying season is at hand. In fact, it was haying season this year before all the corn was in the ground—a very unusual circumstance. Some in our area is cut and baled, but The Farmer will not cut ours until tomorrow. Today he is deepening a ditch in the corn field that had become filled with debris. He hopes this will prevent a washout of the corn along the waterway, should heavy rains fall again.

It's good to see the spears of corn pushing through the soil. From day to day its growth can be measured. The warm humid weather is good corn-growing weather, but oh, what it does to humans! It's especially dangerous in haying season when heavy labor must be done, and I am always aware of sunstroke.

The roses are in bloom.

with "Paul's Scarlet" making a big splash of color along the picket fence. I picked a big bouquet this morning and their perfume has drifted throughout the house. I have a pink rose that never fails to bloom at this time of year—one that has no name that I started from a root of a friend's plant. It has given me many years of pleasure, and now as if its blossoms were not enough, it has sent out a number of individual plants which I hope to set out this fall.

True, it is not a hybrid rose but a rugged individualist that will not be defeated by dry south winds that whip it throughout the summer. It stands there year in and year out, never bothered by blight or diseases that attack other roses. Perhaps that is why I like it.

It's refreshing to have something that can be enjoyed without struggling to keep it alive. By the time I have lugged heavy sprayers around, spaded growth stimulants around the roots and pruned the dead wood from the bushes, I am not certain I am alive. Perhaps that is why I enjoy pink roses from its heavily laden boughs so much. It needs none of this attention to favor me with a summer-time of beauty.

Task For Both

Lincoln, Neb. Regarding the story of Donald Garner and Linda Fern Waldrop in the June 11 Star, it is an experience that will come to many unless measures are taken to prevent it.

However, the writer was wrong about Donald Garner. He can never come out of hiding. He will wake in the night, hearing a cry of pain, seeing a child's face twisted in horror, for a long time to come.

But you, dear people, may come out of your shell of responsibility. Today we live in a society governed by rules and regulations. It must be this way in order for the society to exist. It is up to the parents to teach their children these rules. When the parent fails this task, experiences such as these will ensue.

This past week I was driving down a street, and here was little Junior astride the white line on his tricycle while his mother indifferently watered the lawn. Little Junior might grow up some day, no thanks to his mother and dad. Also, little Junior might not make the league. If this should happen, the blame will be placed on the driver, not the parent.

I am not freeing Donald Garner of his responsibility; neither can I condone the Waldrops for shirking theirs. ALMOST EXPERIENCED

Salary Bills

Howells, Neb. For a long time now we have expounded the theme that "the laborer is worthy of his hire" and that under free enterprise his employer, if fair, is worthy of his profit.

And I have never been shaken from that concept. But there was a time when I was puzzled about the status of the high-salaried engineers and technicians. At times I considered them mere "window dressing" used to entice people to buy things with more confidence and believed that the big companies were losing money on them. Then came the day of awakening. I learned that these slide-rule boys were hired to find ways to make less expensive materials do what high-priced raw materials had been doing. The boss was getting his take from these white-collar men, and how.

Getting to the worth, in dollars, of our elected officials, it is more difficult to use a yardstick but not impossible. In theory we pay officials for the services they render to the community. We have the wish that they, like the laborers, be worthy of their hire, even net us a profit.

Now they are voting on the question of raising salaries in this state. According to worthiness, each case on its own merits, the hard-working senators have a raise due them. The bill of Syas stipulating $200 a month is just about on the mark. But to cede a 20% upance for the county judges is an outrage because we are losing money on them now.

Ice-Skating

Lincoln, Neb. Pershing Auditorium is a place to watch with delight the skaters who like low-flying birds on widespread wings glide across the mirror of ice. For health, recreation, and family union, no sport can compare with the grace and beauty of body motion to ice-skating. Here, too, is the feeling of friendship and complete loss of all daily tensions.

A professional teacher of exceptional charm and ability is there to teach newcomers. Skates can be rented. Omahans who make the three-time-a-week trip to enjoy our fine rink trust that Lincoln appreciates the privilege offered. With vacation upon us and youth on the loose, where is there a better place to spend the coming hot days than in this cool arena having fun?

Equalization Board Hears 20 More Business Cases

By Del Harding
The Lancaster County Board of Equalization heard another 20 complaints Monday from business firms which believe their 1959 personal property taxes are too high but the Board took no action on any of the complaints.

Federal Tax Information 'Not Public'

The Lancaster County Board of Equalization was told that federal income tax information contained on personal property tax forms may not be discussed publicly before the Board.

Chief Dep. Co. Atty. Dale Fahrbruch said he had requested the State Attorney General's office for an opinion on whether a business firm waives its right to privacy of the tax figures by appealing to the equalization board. Although this specific by the Attorney General's office, Fahrbruch said he interprets their formal opinion as prohibiting public disclosure of the information.

But if the business firm appeals the Board's ruling to District Court, the tax information may be present publicly as court evidence, Fahrbruch reported.

Board Chairman Rollin Bailey has allowed newsmen to remain at all Board hearings so far this year, but has said if a business firm appearing before the Board demands a private hearing it will be granted. So far none have done so.

the personal property tax cases until all 56 complaints have been heard. Twenty-eight have been heard so far and another session is scheduled Tuesday afternoon.

County Assessor Arthur Davis said nearly all of the complaining firms had their taxes boosted by his office after an examination of their personal property tax schedules. Davis said nearly all the firms had depreciated the value of their inventories about 30% below their federal income tax figure.

Davis said the firms said they had taken this action to bring them in line with competing firms. But his office rejected these reductions, he said, and again added on the 30%.

Davis and Bailey noted that only 1.7% of the county's estimated 3,500 business firms have filed complaints with the Board.

Mundt Bares Account

Washington (UPI) — Sen. Karl Mundt (R-S.D.) said Monday he had returned $133,072.09 in unspent office salary allowances to the treasury during his 10 years in the Senate.

Mundt also said none of his 13 employees was related to him or to his wife.

5 More Die In Uprising

Trivandrum, India (AP)—Five Indians were killed by police gunfire Monday in a campaign to oust the Communist government of Kerala state.

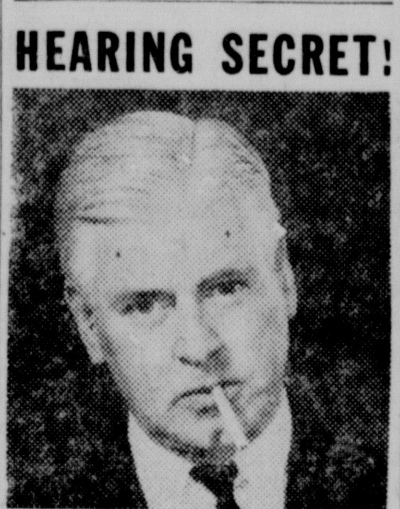

This brought to 10 the number of deaths caused by police bullets in Kerala in 48 hours.

The anti-Red campaign had been launched as a non-violent movement.

Official accounts said that crowds gathered and stoned police who came to break them up. The policemen replied with gunfire.

Had Chapel Wedding

MRS. TANDY M. ALLEN

An all-white background of gladioli and lighted candles decorated the chapel of St. Paul Methodist Church on Saturday afternoon, June 13, for the marriage of Miss Janet Roach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Merle Roach of Maywood, to Tandy M. Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Allen of Cozad. The 4 o'clock service was solemnized by Dr. Frank A. Court, and Houghton Furr, organist, played the wedding music. The vocalist was Norman Riggins.

Mrs. Warren Diefendorf of San Diego, as the matron of honor; the maid of honor, Miss Kathy Roach, sister of the bride; and the bridesmaid, Miss Reba Kinne of Sidney; appeared in sheaths of lilac organza accented by full overskirts. They wore lace brow veils in matching tone, and carried feathered carnations. Miss Karen Coffey, McCook, was the flower girl.

Serving as best man was William Nelson of Denver, and the ushers were Arlie Thayer, Elm Creek, and Charles Kreiss, Endicott, N.Y.

The bride's gown of princess design was fashioned of white silk taffeta. The décolletage of the sculptured basque was overlaid with pearl-dotted Alencon lace caught at the back by a bow of the taffeta, its streamers extending the length of the wide, bell skirt which ended in a train. Her tiered veil of illusion was held by a tiny crown of pearls, and she carried a cascade of white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen will make their home at 539 So. 27th in Lincoln where the bridegroom is attending the University of Nebraska. The bride, a member of Chi Omega sorority and Sigma Alpha Iota music sorority, is a graduate of the university.

NEWS FROM HERE—AND THERE

Numerous Lincoln people will remember Mr. and Mrs. Herbert D. Gish of St. Paul, Minn., when they resided in Lincoln. The news this morning does not directly concern Mr. and Mrs. Gish, but it does concern their son, Herbert G. Gish.

The marriage of Miss Claire Cramp, of Lismore, Australia, to Herbert G. Gish, took place on Saturday, April 25, at St. Thomas Church, Sidney, Australia.

Mr. and Mrs. Gish, after a honeymoon in Europe and the mid-East, will come to the States where they will reside at 5a Colville Ave.,

St. Paul, Minn.

Mr. Gish, an industrial engineer, has been in Australia for the past two years. He is a former student at the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

—Heard a bit of news involving David and Mary Doyle—we thought it was interesting, and we are sure you will. Miss Mary Doyle, according to our grapevine, will be in Hampton, N.H., this summer where she will be in summer stock.

David Doyle is at a summer theater in Warren, O.—a theater that brings in a well known star for each production, with amateurs taking the lesser roles. Anyway, Mr. Doyle, we hear, is the director.

—There are those among the younger generation who will do little thumb-twiddling this summer — There are Miss Mary Walt and Miss Lynn Wright, for instance — The young ladies will be leaving Wednesday for Madison, Wis., where they will attend the University of Wisconsin's summer session — Miss Walt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Walt, and Miss Wright, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Flavel Wright.

And off to Estes Park, Colo., also on Wednesday, will go Miss Jane McLaughlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward McLaughlin, and Miss Sharon Smith, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Smith, Jr., who will spend the summer as counselors at Camp Cheley.

—On the guest list this morning are Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson and their sons, Mike and John, who arrived on Sunday evening from Grand Rapids, Mich., for a visit with Mrs. Wilson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Van Patten. Mr. Wilson will spend only a week in Lincoln, but Mrs. Wilson and the children will remain for at least two weeks.

—There are some contributions from the Talcum Powder set this morning, too. —One of them comes from Bermuda where Lt. and Mrs. Richard Gilfillan (Georgia Lee Hudson—Tri-Delta) announced the arrival of their son, Michael Scott, on Sunday, June 7.

The baby's maternal grandmother, Mrs. R. H. Hudson, has just returned to Lincoln from Bermuda where Lt. Gilfillan is stationed at Hendley Air Force Base, and after spending a few days here will go on to Santa Barbara, Calif., where she also maintains a residence.

My Taxi Driver Told Me

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the second in a series of letters to The Lincoln Star from Mrs. William H. Hasebrook of West Point, national recording secretary of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, who is touring the Far East.

Royal Hawaiian Hotel, Honolulu, Hawaii—

Whoever tried to attain a real rest on a trip? It hasn't been a privilege of ours as yet. We tried to see a bit of Honolulu night life on Saturday evening and then, after an all too short night of sleep encouraged by the lapping of waves on Waikiki beach which we can see from our window, we were aroused so as to leave by 6:30 o'clock for Pearl Harbor and Sunday chapel services at Ford Island.

The hazards experienced in this area Dec. 7, 1941, have been engraved in our memory from numerous reports but today we saw some of the tragic remnants. The Navy offered their transportation services to take us on a tour of the harbor. Thirty-five of us were permitted to go on the landing platform built over the remains of the USS Arizona where 1,182 heroes are still entombed in its sunken hulk. Today it is nothing more than a rusted heap of rubble, but it represents the glorious heroism of our gallant servicemen who suffered the three-hour Japanese attack on that day of history.

I have viewed the impressive changing of the guard at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington; I've stood in awe at the statue of Abraham Lincoln in Washington; I've been thrilled by the material recognition of many of the nation's leaders; but this was the most moving of all.

Later that morning, attending the simple non-denominational service at the chapel, the Baptist minister with the Catholic name of Kelly assisted by the Jewish Rabbi at the organ assured us that, "we must conquer our fears of today so that they cannot serve as barriers to future progress." Surely one way is travel, seeing how others live, and thus adding to world-wide understanding.

The comfort of dress enjoyed by the beautiful women of Hawaii is delightful. The popular native dress, muumu, is a glorified and colorful "sack" dress. One could add all the excess bulges you find easy to acquire with Hawaii's rich food and still not show it.

Stores display men's and boy's shirts as well as women's clothes—all made of the bright print. Orders can be completed overnight. Hawaii would be an excellent place to introduce the Vogue Fashion Sewing contest co-sponsored by the Federation. Nebraska is especially interested this year as the state's contest entrant, Mrs. Robert H. Wise of the Lincoln Junior Woman's Club, won third place in more than 5,000 entries.

Things I wouldn't know if I hadn't talked to my taxi driver: Hawaii has a 3½ percent sales tax on every purchase, including food; the Islands are preparing for their first "state" election; signboards are numerous—characteristic courtesy of the natives is evident from the request, "Please Elect —"; the candidates' names are curious as the Hawaiian language uses only 12 letters of our alphabet and each letter is pronounced; we saw one name, "Kaaawa"—to speak it sounds like a machine gun.

by EDITH HEAD (with Jane Kesner Ardmore)

(Editor's note: This is the fifth in a series of articles condensed from Edith Head's best-selling book, "The Dress Doctor.")

Many of the most attractive actresses came at a time and for pictures which demanded fussy clothes. Mary Martin, for example.

If there is anyone slim, sleek and "Mainbocher," it is Mary Martin, but I had her for a couple of the frilliest pictures ever filmed: The Great Victor Herbert and Kiss the Boys Goodbye, in which she was all but smothered in tulle, pantalons, ruffles and curls.

She loathed these pictures as much as I did; but she was fresh from her Broadway triumph in "Leave It to Me," she'd panicked the public singing "My Heart Belongs to Daddy," so she was tabbed as a cutie-pie, and a more unhappy cutie pie you've never seen.

Mary was in a constant state of battle with the studio, pleading for a different kind of picture, roles that would give her a chance to express her personality; but the studio was making millions and saw no reason to clip her curls.

In desperation, Mary clipped everyone else's. I didn't have curls but I did have a lot of hair, and at every fitting, Mary'd whip out scissors and start on my mane. She cut with abandon,

By Air, Land And Sea

Off on Monday afternoon for a summer of fun and travel in Europe were Mrs. J. K. Brandeberry and her daughter, Miss Joan Brandeberry.

Mrs. Brandeberry, a member of the Lincoln public schools faculty, and Miss Brandeberry, who was graduated this month from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Chi Omega, planned from Lincoln to New York City where they will board ship for Cherbourg. From Cherbourg they will go to Paris to pick up a new car and will motor through Europe. The homecoming, car and all, is scheduled for August.

Dear Abby . . .

Was It Three Months?

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Does a Sixth Grade teacher in a country school have the right to take a student home with her and have her yardman give him a bath? This is what happened to my son!

He said his ankles were a little dirty and when his teacher asked him when he had a bath last he told her it had been three months. Now you know as well as I do that kids eleven years old can't keep track of time.

I just want to know what my rights are as there is going to be plenty of trouble in the principal's office tomorrow morning.

BURNED UP

DEAR BURNED: Your "rights" can be clearly defined if you want to make a Federal case out of it. If the boy said he hadn't had a bath in three months and the teacher could believe it, perhaps you should thank her (and the yardman) for having performed a vital service.

DEAR ABBY: My father got mad at my sister and me around Christmas time. He refused our Christmas gifts. He accepted the gifts from all the other kids, but not ours. It hurt us more than a slap in the face. He is still pretty mad at us. Should we re-wrap them and give them to him for Father's Day?

HURT CHILDREN

DEAR HURT: Re-wrap the gifts and give them to your father for Father's Day. But make no mention of the fact that they are the rejected Christmas gifts.

DEAR ABBY: I am going steady with a wonderful guy and we love each other terribly. Our problem is we love each other so much we can hardly control ourselves. We haven't gone all the way yet but I am afraid we will. We are trying very hard to be good. We have even prayed. We can't afford to get into trouble because we can't afford to get married. What can we do?

TWO IN LOVE

DEAR TWO: Young people

"in love" are playing with dynamite when they "pet" for hours in parked cars or dark corners, or any place that offers them opportunities to go "a. t. w." Double-date, stick with the crowd, and lead yourselves away from temptation.

CONFIDENTIAL

TO NELL: When your old man starts feeling his corns instead of his oats—he's over the hill.

"Why don't my parents trust me?" For What Every Teenager Wants To Know, send 25c and a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

Hold Reunion

The seventh annual reunion of the descendants of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haberman was held recently at the American Forward Hall. Eighty-one relatives were on hand for the affair, and coming from the greatest distance was Mrs. John Haberman of Forest Grove, Ore. Out of town relatives attending were those from York, Grand Island, Wayne, Beatrice, Fairbury and Ord.

HAWAIIAN FLAIR

Cut a large, ripe pineapple in half (lengthwise). Hollow out center with sharp knife. Leave stem and leaves on for garnish. Fill center with your favorite fruit salad. P.S. Wear an oven mitt when you cut the pineapple. It will protect your hands, and let you get a good grip on the spiny fruit.

VACATION TIPS

Whether your vacation lasts a week or month, double check details at home before you leave. Stop milk and paper delivery; put all valuables in a safety deposit box; make certain lights, water, appliances are off and windows and doors are locked. Let a friend know where to reach you in case of an emergency. Check luggage, purchase travelers checks. Now you're ready to enjoy every precious vacation minute with complete peace-of-mind!

SILENT WORKER

One of the most exciting features of gas incinerators: They're so completely silent! All burnable trash (even steak bones) burn to a fine powdery ash. There's no noise, because gas incinerators have no mechanical parts. (Means less maintenance costs, too; there's nothing to wear out!) Wouldn't it be worth three cents a day to be able to drop in properly wrapped waste, turn a dial and allow your gas incinerator to do homemaking's messiest job for you? The folks at your local gas company or gas appliance dealer will tell you that's all it costs to operate a gas incinerator.

ROOM FOR IMAGINATION

When children have too many toys to play with at one time, playing becomes a chore to them. Try restricting the number of toys, always keeping some tucked away. When they outgrow or become tired of a toy, replace it with another. You'll be surprised to see how much the child's imagination and ingenuity are developed when one toy must serve for many.

EXCITING DISCOVERY

Natural gas is piped into more homes every day; more families discover the efficient conveniences of this miracle fuel. They discover gas can't be beat for speed, cleanliness and ease of installation! Aren't you happy that your life can be made easier by using natural gas? And isn't it good to know your pipeline supplier, Northern Natural Gas Company, never lets you down? They continue to supply gas to your local gas company, who pipes it into your home. You can use as much as you'd like... to make your life that much more modern!

PINEAPPLE SNACKS

A salute to Nancy Nuutinen, Minneapolis, Minn., for sharing her tasty coffee-time snack: To make dry mixture for top and bottom, cream 1 cup granulated sugar, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 cup shortening. Add 2 cups sifted flour, 2 cups rolled oats, 1/2 tsp. salt. Mix well with hands till crumbly-textured. Filling: Drain 3 1/2 cups pineapple. To 6 Tbsp. flour, add drained juice, 4 Tbsp. lemon juice. Cook slowly, stirring constantly till thickened (about five minutes). Add pineapple pulp. Spread 1/2 of dry mixture in a 10 x 15 greased pan. Smooth on filling. Spread remainder of dry mixture on top. Pat lightly. Bake in 375-degree gas oven 35 to 40 minutes till golden brown.

$4 Billion Foreign Aid Measure Gets Senate Committee's 13-2 Approval

Washington (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee late Monday approved a $4.164,820,000 foreign aid bill. It includes $1 billion in Treasury borrowing authority opposed by President Eisenhower.

The bill, approved 13-2, would authorize the $1.6 billion Eisenhower asked for the military assistance for the fiscal year starting July 1.

But the committee voted 9-6 to earmark $1.1 billion of this total for the NATO countries—$223 million more than Eisenhower asked for that area.

Of the remaining $500 million, $96.5 million would be authorized for Latin America. But $31.5 million of that is earmarked for contribution to an international police force if one is created by the Organization of American States (OAS). Otherwise, it would revert to Latin American economic assistance.

Total Backing

The committee approved the full $835 million Eisenhower requested for defense supports — economic help to

Session's Veto Number Average

The number of legislative bills vetoed by Gov. Ralph Brooks this session represents about par for the course.

A survey covering the past 11 regular legislative sessions showed a total of 83 bills killed by vetoes, or a little more than seven per session.

Gov. Brooks has successfully vetoed 7 bills this year. The recent year record for vetoes—17—was set in 1937 by the then Democratic governor Roy Cochran, now state engineer.

Republican Val Peterson in 1951 and Republican Victor Anderson in 1955 vetoed only two bills.

Debate Limit On Strauss To Be Asked

Washington (UPI)—Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) said he will ask the Senate Tuesday to limit its drawn-out debate on the confirmation of Lewis L. Strauss as commerce secretary.

Strauss Victory Seen, But By Narrow Margin

Washington (AP)—The Republican national chairman, Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, predicted Monday that Lewis L. Strauss will win Senate confirmation — but just barely — to be secretary of commerce.

Morton talked to reporters at the White House after conferring on the Strauss matter with Wilton B. Persons, President Eisenhower's chief aide.

It will be a close vote, Morton said — a margin of one to three votes. White House officials thought the margin would be a little wider.

tion, he would keep it working overtime. If necessary, Johnson said, he would also schedule a Saturday session.

Earlier, he told newsmen he would like to get a final vote on Strauss by mid-week and "certainly" by the week-end.

The debate entered its second week Monday. Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn.) warned the Senate it would bring "disgrace upon itself" if it permitted "persecution and defamation" to thwart Strauss' nomination.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) announced he would "speak at some length" later this week in opposition to Strauss' nomination.

"My subject will be, 'Enemy of the People,'" Morse said.

borrowing authority for economic development loans abroad. The only "No" votes were cast by Sens. Morse and William Langer (R-ND).

The House began debate Monday on a $3,642,600,000 bill approved by its Foreign Affairs Committee.

As House consideration got under way, supporters of the aid program showed promise of warding off deep cuts. They did so in winning a preliminary test, 277-93.

The roll call came on the technical question of whether the House should consider the aid bill at all. The number of ayes raised backers' hopes of defeating the amendments sure to be offered Tuesday or Wednesday to pare down the program.

No Warden Yet, But Board May Act Next Week

No action will be taken by the Board of Control to name a new State Penitentiary warden until next week, Vice Chairman Charles Leeman said Monday.

Applications for the post are still being accepted, he said.

Three men, all recommended by the Federal Bureau of Prisons, have been interviewed for the position.

The board's final choice is expected to be made from that trio.

Group Argues 'Fair Trade' Bill Effects

Washington (UPI)—A Senate commerce subcommittee heard conflicting opinions Monday as to whether smaller merchants would be helped by "fair trade" legislation designed to prevent price-cutting by chain stores and discount houses.

Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis) supported the bill. But Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY) chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, opposed it.

Proxmire, a co-sponsor of the Senate bill, said its passage was "essential to the health and even existence of small business as we know it today."

'Maja' Postcard Said Obscene

Washington (UPI)—A postal official ruled Monday that an advertising pitch printed on a reproduction of "The Naked Maja" transformed it from an art masterpiece into just another filthy postcard.

Charles D. Ablard, post office judicial officer, held that the postcard was obscene and should be banned from the mails. The card was printed by a motion picture company to promote a movie carrying the same title as the picture.

Ablard's decision backed up an earlier examiner's ruling which barred 2,268 of the postcards from being mailed in New York. However, the full-color reproduction of Francisco Goya's world-famous painting got into circulation anyway.

Announce Way To Help Drain All 8 Sinus Cavities Without Discomfort

New decongestant tablet for sinus congestion sufferers acts both to drain clogged sinus cavities and relieve distressing head pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) The Announcements has been made of a new tablet development which has the remarkable ability to help drain clogged sinus cavities and thus relieve congestion and pressure. The headaches, pressure pains, stuffed-up head, nasal drip, clogged breathing—all the unrelenting symptoms the sinus sufferer knows so well—are attacked directly by improving drainage of the sinus areas.

Most remarkable of all is the fact that this is accomplished with extraordinary speed and without discomfort of any kind. This new tablet does its remarkable work internally, through the blood stream. It deposits into every drop of blood plasma a new medication which is carried to the sinus area, where it shrinks the swollen doors to the sinus cavities and helps drain away the pain-causing pressure and congestion.

The shrinking substance in this new tablet has been so successful topically in promoting drainage of the sinus cavities that it is now prescribed more widely by doctors than any material for this purpose. This new medication is now available at drug counters without the need for a prescription under the name, Dristan® Decongestant Tablets. Dristan Tablets cost only 98¢ for a bottle of 24 tablets. Buy and use Dristan Tablets with the absolute guarantee that they will drain away pain-causing pressure and congestion of the sinus cavities, relieve the pain and distress, or purchase price will be refunded.

Tot Drowns In Lily Pond

Dannebrog, Neb. (AP) — A Grand Island girl drowned in a lily pond at Dannebrog.

She was Betty Ann Wolf, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wolf.

Efforts to revive the girl by artificial respiration were unsuccessful.

The Wolf family had been visiting at Dannebrog.

DELAPLANE'S

For I don't know how many years, I have been pleading with the phone company to put a shut-off button on my telephone.

There is a way so you can cut off the bell. But the telephone company does not approve of it. If you have a phone, by golly, they want you to answer it.

You just get in the downy and—

"RINNNNNNNNGGGG!"

Well, the first ring, I say: "I will not answer it." I pull the pillow over my head.

The second ring, I think: "Maybe somebody in the family is sick." This is a terrible thing to think about. Only when you think of it, who could be sick — everybody is healthy and well.

The third ring, I think: "Maybe that contract came through and they are trying to get me!" That would be awful if I didn't answer. But no. They can call in the morning. Why do they call in the middle of the night?

The fourth ring, I think: "I wonder who it is?"

By this reasoning and reasonable process, I find myself wide awake. With little more knowledge than when I started — "Hi, boy! We were sitting around the Press Club and thought we'd call you. Whaddya doing, boy? What's new, boy?" Yakity-yak.

A good deal of my business is done with New York. And New York is three hours ahead of my life.

Phone calls from New York come in at 7:30 a.m.

A personal answering service is the thing. I have a personal answering service in my teen-age daughter.

Let the phone ring during the day. She leaps two tables, over the dog and the vacuum cleaner.

"I'LL GET IT!"

Nobody can get to the phone ahead of that child. It could be a boy calling! Omigosh!

But at night, you could tie the phone to her ears and she would not wake up.

On the old phones, we had a box with the works in it. A box on the wall. You could unscrew the lid of this box. At night you could stuff cotton under the bell.

The phone company got wise to that. They invented a phone now that has the instrument and the bell in one package.

Obviously, the case calls for self-discipline. Let it ring. Don't answer.

This would be fine except I am too high-strung. I just don't know WHO it could be. Calling me at that time of night. It could be ANYBODY. And by John, it is.

Cuban Movement Warns U.S. Of 'Interfering' In Country's Affairs

... 'David-Goliath' Outcome Hinted

Havana (UPI) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro's July 26 revolutionary movement warned the U.S. that the Cuban government would tolerate no interference in Cuba's internal affairs.

In reference to a U.S. note last week expressing concern over the revolutionary government's agrarian reform program, the provincial directorate of the July 16 movement said in a statement:

"No foreign embassy can make us deviate one iota from our objectives."

The statement, published on the front page of the newspaper Revolution, organ of the July 26 movement, recalled the story of David and Goliath and added: "The outcome of this story is known to all."

'Reactionaries' Warned

It accused "reactionary interests in the U.S. of trying to impede the consolidation of Cuba's economy and warned that "the day that imperialist agents disembark in Cuba there will be 6 million Cubans ready to die rather than retreat. . . .

"This is a revolution of liberty or death. . . . Our anti-imperialism is real. . . . Our solidarity is not with those who speak of theoretical democracy. We are neither in Hungary nor in Guatemala. . . .," the statement said.

Meanwhile, farm owners in Pinar Del Rio told the revolutionary government that more than 12,000 families in that province would be "condemned to hunger and despair" if the agrarian reform law was carried out in its present form.

Critic Raps Piano Playing Of Liberace

London (AP)—The judge and jury hearing Liberace's libel suit against a London newspaper and columnist heard some caustic criticism of the American entertainer's piano playing ability.

Charles Reid, music critic of the London New Chronicle, testified he had been anxious—"as a matter of conscience"—in articles he wrote to deprecate Liberace's treatment of the classics.

"Do you know that the result of his concerts has been an enormous increase in the sale of pianos in the United States?" asked Liberace's lawyer, Gilbert Beyfus.

"How gratifying," Reid retorted.

"And an enormous increase in the number of people learning to play the piano?"

"But to play what?" asked the critic. "I hope they don't maltreat the classics as Mr. Liberace does."

Time Is Limited

Beyfus explained that on television, Liberace could only play short classical extracts in the 4 or 5 minutes time allowance.

"What bewilders me," said Reid, "is why he should try."

Earlier, the British high court pondered whether Liberace owed his personal freshness to perfume or toilet water. Defense witnesses expounded on the point as the American pianist's suit entered its second week.

"I was struck by the strong aroma which surrounded him," said Donald Zec of the Daily Mirror. But asked about an article of his which described Liberace's aroma, he replied:

"I did not mean to imply that Liberace was necessarily wearing perfume, but his toilet water or whatever preparation he was using was very heavily perfumed."

Congress Backs Ike's A-Projects

Washington (AP) — Congress Monday authorized $230 million in atomic energy construction work. But it set aside President Eisenhower's request for a giant new atom smasher.

After brief discussion, the Senate and House passed the authorization bill and sent it to the White House in the form recommended by the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee.

Left out of the bill was a $105-million item for construction of a two-mile-long atom smasher, called a "linear accelerator," to be built near Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif.

May 14, Eisenhower proposed this project at a New York dinner attended by many of the nation's top scientists.

Muscle Builders

Tokyo (AP) — The gymnastics instructor stood in front of the class and chanted, "1, 2, left, right, 1, 2. . . ." The pupils worked their jaws in accordance with the instruction. They were chewing gum as part of a grammar school dental hygiene day. The idea was to help build jaw muscle.

Groom Sweats; Bride Blameless

Henlow, England (UPI) — Sidney Cakebread was soaked with perspiration when he walked down the aisle to be married.

But it wasn't nerves.

Cakebread had to run 3 miles after his taxicab left him at the wrong church.

Warrants Okayed For K-L Widening

Warrants for $63,465.80 of Gasoline Tax Funds were approved for payment Monday by the City Council for purchase of right-of-way and access elimination for the K-L street project.

This total includes a condemnation judgment of $26,904 with costs of $331.80.

The project will widen and repave K and L Streets between 16th and 22nd. The two streets will be converted into a one-way pair, with traffic moving east on K and west on L. At 22nd Street, the two streets will join the present Capitol Parkway.

Meet Asked On Route 34 Widening

A July conference to discuss possible widening of Cornhusker Highway north of Lincoln from two to 4 lanes was proposed by State Engineer Roy Cochran.

Cochran's suggestion came in a letter to Lancaster County Board Chairman Rollin Bailey, who had asked the state to look into the possibility of widening the heavily-travelled highway.

Cochran said, however, that the state does not have funds for the project but added if the county wanted to finance the widening it would "meet with our approval."

The County Board and City-County Planning Commission have endorsed the plan and the City Council has asked Bailey how the city might help.

Don't miss it. News of friends on vacation, marriages, engagements, parties, PTA notes and club meetings makes good reading in The Sunday Journal and Star.

Graham Ends Tour.

But he expressed hope that agreement can be reached before current labor agreements expire June 30. And he gave new assurance that the United Steelworkers would continue industry-wide negotiations.

★ ★ ★ Maritime Strike Spreads In Italy

Genoa, Italy (AP) — Italian seamen's unions Monday night ordered the crews of 22 more ships to join a growing maritime strike. It has stranded about 50 vessels plus about 12,000 passengers and much cargo in ports throughout the world.

The union threatened to tie up every ship in the Italian merchant marine if its demands are not met.

The maritime strike has become the focal point of spreading labor agitation in Italy.

with a 4-man industry team despite a wrangle over a union call for bargaining on a company-by-company basis.

Negotiations on the new contract resume in New York Tuesday.

Flies To D.C.
McDonald issued his warning in Philadelphia. He then flew to Washington to confer with federal mediator Joseph Finnegan and a group of Democratic senators.

Finnegan said "We had some very interesting, informative and exploratory talks." He met with McDonald for 35 minutes in the union leader's hotel room.

Gist Of Talks
McDonald said they had "a little conversation and I briefed him on the status of what is laughingly called negotiations to date."

He said he was not "too proud" to continue industry-wide talks even though steel officials have served notice they would not appear at separate company-by-company sessions the union had suggested.

★ ★ ★ Dairy Strike Perils Chicago Milk Supply

Chicago (UPI) — A dairy workers strike Monday threatened to cut off the supply of fresh milk and dairy products to Chicago and its suburbs.

Home deliveries of milk were made on schedule, but were expected to halt Tuesday unless there was an end to the strike called by Local 754, Dairy Employees, a Teamster affiliate representing 2,630 inside workers.

Word of the strike caused housewives to make a run on milk. A check of grocery stores revealed less than a 3-day supply of condensed, powdered or evaporated milk on hand.

Federal mediators stepped into the dispute Monday in an effort to get both sides to resume bargaining.

A Forward Step Taken

... In Nuclear Talks

Geneva (AP) — A group of U.S., British and Soviet scientists received orders from the nuclear test suspension conference Monday to recommend ways of policing high altitude explosions.

These experts were charged with analyzing all advanced methods connected with this frontier problem of science, including the use of artificial satellites.

They will begin work in Geneva June 22, with instructions to report back to the conference within a week. A detailed exchange of data among the Big 3 powers is envisaged.

The decision—taken at a 50-minute conference session in the Palace of Nations—represented a partial victory for the United States and Britain.

Both insist that any treaty banning atomic and hydrogen weapons tests must be based on the latest scientific information. They still are pressing the Soviet Union for a similar study of the even more difficult problems concerning underground blasts.

Weather Bureau Bows; 'Discomfort Index' Dropped

Washington (AP) — Bowing to complaints from weather-conscious businessmen, the government has announced a new name for its experimental "Discomfort Index." Henceforth the Weather Bureau will call it the "temperature-humidity index."

A change had been demanded by a number of business groups in resort areas and in cities where the weather is apt to be hot and muggy. They rebelled against the daily reminder that the weather can be anything but comfortable.

The bureau said critical newspaper editorials also were a factor in its decision to seek a more popular name.

The index is designed to give a single measure of both temperature and humidity — both of which have an important bearing on how people feel. As the bureau says, the index gives numerical values to the common expression, "It isn't the heat, it's the humidity."

Senators Snap Losing Streak

Washington (P) — A 5-run Kansas City rally in the 9th inning fell short Monday night as the Washington Senators broke a 5-game losing streak by whipping the A's, 8-5.

Washington's Harmon Killebrew walloped his 22nd homer of the season to tie Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews for the major league lead. Jim Lemon, who blasted 3 homers in Sunday's doubleheader against Cleveland, hit another, his 17th of the year.

Making his first start of the season after 8 relief appearances, John Romonosky pitched a strong 6-hit shutout throughout the first 8 innings, permitting only two A's to advance as far as second base.

The A's caught up with him in the 9th, Kent Hadley blasting a two-run homer and another run scoring on a single by Zeke Bella.

Bob Cerv, representing the potential tying run for the A's, ended the threat by popping up to first baseman Roy Sievers.

More NCAA Notes

My choice for the fastest man in the NCAA track and field championships may come as a surprise, since he did not win an event.

But for sheer speed, I'll take San Jose State sophomore Bob Poynter, who finished second to teammate Ray Norton in the 220 and to Charlie Tidwell of Kansas in the 100.

In both final events, Tidwell and Norton got a good lead on Poynter (23 yards) at the start, but Poynter was cutting into the lead at the finish. Once he got rolling, Poynter looked fastest to me.

220 Hurdles Best Race

It seems to be an almost unanimous choice that the 220 low hurdles was the best race of the day, when Eastern Michigan's Hayes Jones nosed out Tidwell.

The Kansan got a better start on the curve, and had a yard or so lead over Jones going into the straightaway. But Jones pulled up on the straight course.

It looked to me like Jones made his lean into the tape at the right time and before Tidwell began to lean. An earlier lean by Tidwell might have won the race.

Big Hand For Last Man

As usual, one of the biggest rounds of applause from the appreciative Lincoln audience went to the last man to finish the 3-mile run.

The winner, Paul Whiteley of Emporia, Kan., State, also got a good hand. His time, 13:59.1, is not a bad record. It will stand as an NCAA mark since the event had not been run before.

Although the time was far off the world standard of 13:10.8 by A. G. Thomas of Australia, Whiteley's clocking is not too far from the 13:35.7 American record held by Max Truex of Southern California.

Alley Shaved 'Em

Although Kansas' great javelin star, Bill Alley, failed to improve his Friday throw of 240-5 (which stood up for first place, anyway) in Saturday's finals, he did show the crowd what he can do. Alley whipped a pair of warm-up tosses beyond the 250-foot marker.

Biggest disappointments have to be Elias Gilbert, who fell in the high hurdles and scratched from the lows, and NU's Joe Mullins, who may not have beaten George Kerr of Illinois, but should have made a battle. It just wasn't Joe's day . . . Of 105 schools entered, 47 scored . . . John Kelly of Stanford, second in the hop-step-and-jump and tied for 6th in the broad jump, had to keep moving all day. He has a chronic back ailment, and has to warm up an hour before his event starts, then keeping moving until he's through for the day. If he sits still for a minute, his back stiffens up so much he can't move.

Braves Pilot Haney Hints At Retiring

Los Angeles (P) — Manager Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves indicated strongly Monday that this might be his last year as a major league pilot.

"If at the end of this season I feel as I do now, this may be my last season," Haney said.

The disclosure came at a luncheon at which it was announced Haney had accepted a position as vice president of the newly organized Studio City Bank in the San Fernando Valley.

"The one thing uppermost in my mind is to win the pennant for Milwaukee. We have a tough fight ahead. After that I'll make a decision," Haney continued.

"If I stay in baseball I will stay with Milwaukee. I am and have been very happy in Milwaukee."

"But when I got in town this morning (Los Angeles is Haney's home town), I thought what's the use to be away from home and to be away from those near and dear to you."

"When 3 or 4 little guys (his grandchildren) fall on your neck and you visit your mother who is 92 and your brothers, you think what's the use being 2,000 miles away from all this," Haney said in very serious tones.

He admitted that he had not intended "popping off" at this luncheon.

"What I said just came from the heart."

Haney said he had not discussed his statement or any retirement plans with the Milwaukee front office. The team is here for an important series with Los Angeles.

Haney is 62 and has won two National League pennants and one World Series in his 3 previous years with the Braves.

Haney said he was meeting most of his banking associates for the first time. He joked that as a vice president he rated ahead of his rival in baseball, Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees, who is a member of the board of directors of a Glendale bank.

Haney's appointment to the bank was made by John

J. Pollon, president and board chairman.

Other well-known board members are Sheriff Pete Pitchess, Edgar Bergen, singer Gordon MacRae, Art Linkletter and ex-baseballer Chuck Connors, now a television star.

The popular Haney, who has had a long and varied career in 42 years in baseball, said he has been looking for an excuse and a solid business to stay in Los Angeles.

After several years absence as an active manager, Haney returned to uniform to guide the old Hollywood Stars of the Pacific Coast League through a succession of successful years.

Much against his personal desires, Branch Rickey, then general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, induced Haney to take over the then downtrodden Buccos. Haney spent several miserable years trying to help that club and then took over at Milwaukee to lead the Braves to their present high position.

Hospital To Discharge Eddie Today

New York (P) — Eddie Arcaro, 43-year-old jockey who has won more big stakes than any other rider, will be discharged from the hospital today and sent home. There was no decision when he'll ride again.

He scoffed at mention of retirement as he walked around in his hospital room Monday for the first time since his horse—Black Hills—went down in the mud and gloom during the running of the $145,000 Belmont Stakes.

Arcaro was thrown into the sloppy track and knocked unconscious. He was rushed to a Queens hospital, where he is recovering from a concussion, sprained neck muscles, contusions of the left shoulder and numerous bruises.

Dr. Alexander Kaye, physician for the Jockey Guild, said he would release Arcaro and send him to his Long Island home.

"When he will return to riding is uncertain," said Kaye. "It will be decided on a day-to-day basis."

Dr. Alexander Kaye, physician for the Jockey Guild, said he would release Arcaro and send him to his Long Island home.

Omaha (P)—Arizona won its 3rd straight NCAA college world series baseball game here Monday night, handing Oklahoma State a 5 to 3 defeat. Oklahoma State is now 2 and 1 in the series.

Arizona handed Richard Soergel his first pitching defeat in two years. He was 4-0 in 1958 and had a 7-0 record this year.

State grabbed a 2-0 lead in the 3rd, but Arizona cut it to 2-1 in the 4th and then won the game in the 5th when 5 hits brought home 3 runs. The first blows of the inning were doubles by Bob Williams and pitcher Burdette Morago, whose hit sent home the tying run.

Arizona will play Fresno State at 8 p.m. (CST) tonight, and Oklahoma State will meet Penn State at 6 p.m. The Oklahoma State-Penn State loser will be eliminated, as will Fresno State if Arizona wins again.

—Tigers 1½ Games Out— Wilhelm Takes First Setback

Baltimore (P)—The surging Detroit Tigers ended Hoyt Wilhelm's 9-game winning streak here Monday night, battering the Baltimore pitcher from the mound in the 7th inning on their way to a 6-4 victory over the Orioles.

Baltimore almost took Wilhelm off the hook by scoring 3 runs in the 8th to chase Ray Narleski and pull within 5-4, but reliever Dave Sisler stopped the rally. The Tigers added an unearned run in the 9th.

The victory moved Detroit to within 1½ games of first place. After a dismal 2-15 start, the Tigers have run up a 30-12 record under their new manager, Jimmy Dykes.

Kuenn Is Hot

Harvey Kuenn made 3 of the 8 hits off Wilhelm—a single, double and home run—and figured in the two Detroit rallies which finished the 35-year-old knuckle ball specialist.

Wilhelm had not yielded a homer in 115 innings when Kuenn smacked his second of the year into the left field bleachers in the 7th with out and Frank Bolling on base after a double. Detroit's Al Kaline hit the last homer off Wilhelm Sept. 12, 1958.

When Wilhelm hit Charlie Maxwell following the homer, he was lifted in favor of Ernie Johnson. It was only the second time in 10 starts he had failed to go the distance.

Had .996 ERA

Wilhelm entered the game with a microscopic .996 earned run average in 90½ innings. The Tigers made only two hits in the first 5 innings—both infield topers along the 3rd base line.

But Detroit exploded in the 6th to end Wilhelm's 19-inning scoreless streak. Eddie Yost opened with a single and went to 3rd on Kuenn's double. Yost scored on Maxwell's sacrifice fly, and Kaline singled Kuenn across to put the Tigers ahead 2-1.

Kaline went to 3rd on Larry Osborne's single and scored on a passed ball by Joe Ginsberg. The run was earned, however, since Lou Berberet followed with a fly ball to the fence in right which would have scored Kaline.

The Orioles threatened against Narleski almost every inning, but until the 8th they only damage came in 5th when Albie Pearson doubled and moved around on two sacrifices.

Ginsberg singled for the 3rd time to open the 8th, and after 2 outs Pearson singled and Al Pilarcik doubled to chase Narleski. Billy Klaus smacked Sisler's first pitch to score two more runs but, Gene Woodling grounded out to end the threat.

Weatherspoon's Homers Provide Difference

By Bob McCoy

Catcher Chuck Weatherspoon blasted a pair of two-run homers to provide the difference as Fox Cities dumped the punchless Lincoln Chiefs, 9-7, in a free-swinging Three-I League affair at Sherman Field Monday night.

Both clubs hit away at will, with Fox Cities collecting 16 safeties and Lincoln 12, but it was Weatherspoon's two shots over the left field fence that squared the 3-game series for the Foxes and gave left-hander Jim Griffith, who went all the way, his 5th victory.

The same two clubs wind up the series tonight and then the Chiefs play on the road until June 27. General Manager Roger Bottorff announced tonight will be Bargain Night, with reserved tickets selling for 75 cents and general admission and bleacher seats going for 50 cents.

Ron Bloodworth (3-4), who fashioned a perfect against Green Bay in his last appearance, will pitch for the Chiefs while Hector Maestri (1-3) will throw for the Foxes.

Obstruction Play Aids As Bums Chill Braves

Four-Hitter By Drysdale Wins By 4-0

Los Angeles (P) — Wally Moon slammed a 3-run homer after an unusual obstruction play in the 7th inning Monday night and the Los Angeles Dodgers blanked Milwaukee 4-0 behind Don Drysdale's superlative 4-hit pitching.

Drysdale, the major league's strikeout leader, fanned 12, extending his total for the season to 103. Drysdale is now 6-5.

Righthander Bob Buhl, who had a record of 14-2 against the Dodgers going back to the start of the 1956 season, was the loser. He is now 6-4.

Going into the 7th inning Buhl had surrendered 5 hits, only one of which got to the outfield. But in the 7th Don Zimmer walked with one out and Drysdale dropped a bunt down the first base line. Milwaukee catcher Del Crandall, pursuing the ball, obstructed Drysdale as he ran down the line, and the big pitcher was awarded first base as Zimmer took second. Jim Gilliam then doubled off the left field screen scoring Zimmer with the game's first run, and Moon followed with his 3rd homer of the season. It was a 390-foot shot over the right field barrier. Three of the 4 runs were unearned.

The loss was the 8th in 12 games for the league-leading Braves. The Dodgers had dropped their last 3.

The Braves hit only 4 balls to the outfield. Two of them were outs.

What's Next On Lineup? Gal Tennists Don Wigs

London (P)—Wigs—not rackets—rock the tennis world today.

"Wigs are the latest things for 'irl tennis players," said Teddy Tintling, the Englishman, "years ago fashioned Gussie Moran's famous lac ties."

"We've devised a whole set of reporters, "and the girls are taking to them like a ball to a base line."

The color of the new tennis wigs range from a weird blue to an even weirder pink.

"Wigs definitely will be worn at this year's Wimbledon," said designer Tintling.

The annual Wimbledon lawn tennis championships get under way next Monday.

But tennis wigs won't be worn by all the girls.

"Certainly not by me," said Russia's Anna Dmitrievna. "I'll wear shorts. We take tennis seriously in the Soviet Union."

Another dissenting voice was that of Lady Crossfield, who gives a pre-Wimbledon tennis party every year on her broad London lawn.

"I think it's absolutely ridiculous—a quite preposterous idea," she said.

"When a girl has pretty hair, what does it matter if it gets a little untidy when she's playing?"

Karol Fageros, who made fashion news though hardly tennis with her gold lame panties, said she liked the idea of wigs.

Tintling said heat and tennis play havoc with a girl's coiffure.

"The wigs are designed to be worn over a tiny bandeau of toweling to mop up perspiration."

"They combine a new beauty aid with a practical way of keeping the face dry."

He said possibly wig-wearers at this year's games include Britain's Shirley Brasher and Pat Ward, Yola Ramirez and Rosa Reyes from Mexico, Miss Fageros of Miami, Fla., and Pat Stewart of Forest Hill, N.Y.

Olmedo Spurns Big Pro Offer

New York (AP)—Promoter Jack Kramer says Alex Olmedo, Peruvian star of the U.S. Davis Cup team, has "turned up his nose" at a $50,000-to-$100,000 offer to join the tennis tour in November.

"Somebody else has Olmedo's ear and he figures he's going to sign for $150,000—

OLMEDO . . . not biting.

But not with me," the Los Angeles tennis impresario said. "I've made my offer. He may find himself crawling back to us later on."

Discuss Pro Career
Kramer said he had discussed a possible professional career with the sensational young Peruvian before the latter left for England to prepare for next week's Wimbledon Championships.

"I merely was feeling him out," Kramer said. "I realized he couldn't make a decision without losing his amateur status. I told him I would give him $50,000 if he never won another match this year as an amateur. I said I would up it to $80,000 if he won the Wimbledon and $100,000 if he added the U.S. title at Forest Hills and the Davis Cup."

"He wasn't impressed. He more or less indicated to me that he had a better offer elsewhere, but I don't know from whom. I only know that I don't particularly care. I was buying him mainly on his potential anyhow."

'Day Is Past'
Kramer said the day was past when an amateur could demand a contract such as Australian Lew Hoad got after Wimbledon in 1957—a $125,000 deal.

"I couldn't put Olmedo against Pancho Gonzales head to head—it would be murder," the promoter added. "I think he would lose to any one of the 10 active professionals, including Ashley Cooper and Mal Anderson. (Whom Alex beat in Australia.)"

"I don't care how big a gate attraction he is as an amateur, what good would he be to me after he had lost his first 10 pro matches. None at all. And I figure he would lose them, too."

'Like A Rookie'
"If I signed him I would have to bring him along gradually as a baseball club does a rookie. Just to give you an example, Cooper and Anderson, who didn't win a single match of Gonzales on the tour, were both rated above Olmedo in the world amateur standings."

Kramer, in town to kick off the $15,000 professional tournament starting at Forest Hills next Sunday, said he also was worried about Olmedo's lackadaisical attitude.

"He comes home from Australia and loses to Mike Franks and Cliff Mayne," the promoter added. "Then he goes to Beckenham, England and worries the tournament officials by dropping out of sight."

"When he was found he merely said 'I was tired.' We've got one player like that on the tour (an obvious reference to Gonzales with whom Kramer is constantly feuding) and we can't afford another."

Kramer said Olmedo hoped to sign for a tour against Gonzales with perhaps another promoter but such was an idle wish. "I've got Pancho under iron-clad contract until March 19, 1962," he said.

His Bonus Estimated At $30,000

Eighteen-year-old Barry Morgan, recently graduated from Greensboro Senior High School, N.C., takes the pen from Milwaukee scout Gil English to sign a bonus contract with the Braves for an estimated $30,000. Morgan will be sent to the McCook club of the Class D Nebraska State League.

U.S. Netters Have Trouble But Still Win

London (AP)—Two United States Davis Cup players, Peruvian Alex Olmedo and Barry MacKay of Dayton, O., had their troubles with Australian opponents Monday in their opening matches in the London grass courts tennis championships, but both managed to win rather handily.

Olmedo took on 18-year-old Bob Hewitt, Australia's 10th-ranked player, in a second round match after both had drawn first round byes. Although badly off form at the start, the swarthy, sharp-faced Peruvian won out 2-6, 6-3, 6-4.

MacKay, beaten last week by another Australian 18-year-old, Ken Fletcher in the Beckenham, squared accounts by whipping more experienced Warren Jaques of Australia 6-4, 6-4 in the first round.

Jon Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif., ranked only 14th in the U.S., pulled off the tournament's first big upset when he defeated Rod Laver, 3rd-ranking player in Australia, 6-8, 8-4, 6-4. Douglas used a fine backhand and a booming service to accomplish the upset. In the final set, after Laver had pulled up to 4-5, Douglas served two aces, then took the match with a whipping backhand shot from the baseline.

The London tournament is a final tuneup for the Wimbledon Championships opening next Monday. Olmedo, who likely will be top seed for Wimbledon, lost his first 3 services and served 8 double faults during the match. But he had the accuracy and the shots to win easily in the last two sets.

DEMOCRATS FEAR A DEFENSE DISASTER

... Spending An Extra $30 Billion Over Next 4 Years Is Proposed

Washington (UPI)—A Democratic Party Committee, charging that the nation's defenses are in "disastrous" shape, has called for spending an extra 30 billion dollars over the next 4 years to put U.S. military might on a par with Russia's.

The party's advisory committee on foreign policy, headed by former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, said this country no longer is Russia's equal in strategic nuclear striking power and is "dangerously" behind in intercontinental missiles.

Pre-Korean War Levels
Yet, it said, the Eisenhower administration, "by some strange madness," has set about reducing U.S. land forces to pre-Korean war levels.

The result, it said, is that the "stage is being set for a major tragedy."

The committee said one of the first steps needed in overhauling the nation's defenses is "a crash effort to bridge the missile gap."

It also called for increasing army manpower by 225,000 to 1,100,000 and Army divisions from 3 to 8.

It said these and other major steps it recommended would mean a net addition in military spending of $7,500,000,000 over each of the next four years.

It said "there can be no question of the capacity of our economy to support" this additional expenditure.

It said defense, the atomic energy program and the foreign aid program combined now represent less than 10% of the nation's output of goods and services.

Yet during World War II, when that output was substantially smaller, it said, almost 45% was diverted to defense purposes.

The committee reviewed the military situation in an 11,000-word pamphlet that denounced Eisenhower's defense policies with such words as "folly," "neglect," "blindness" and putting economy above national security.

In a direct slap at Eisenhower, it said most of the blame for the shortcomings it pictured could be laid to lack of "executive leadership."

Rape Case Prosecutor Says Never Asked Death Penalty
Tallahassee, Fla. (AP)—State Atty. William D. Hopkins said he did not demand the death penalty in the Tallahassee rape case because he thought that was a matter for a jury to decide.

"I think the records will show that I have never asked the death penalty in any case I have tried and I believe I have sent as many men to the chair for various crimes as any prosecutor," he said.

"I feel that is a matter for the jury to determine on the basis of the evidence."

The 50-year-old prosecutor made the comment in response to a question as to why he hadn't called for the death penalty.

Forceful Prosecution
Hopkins, who has drawn praise from Negro leaders for forceful prosecution of the case, implied the death penalty. He declared the government could not sustain a double standard of justice.

Gov. Leroy Collins said he sees no proper place for public praise or complaint about the verdict in the case.

"Under our own system of jurisprudence every case must stand upon its own base," he said. "Extraneous matters open the door for prejudice, vengeance and mob rule."

In his first public comment on the case, Collins said the trial was conducted promptly and fairly. But he declined to express an opinion on the verdict.

"The crime was reprehensible to all decent citizens," he said in a statement.

"Inasmuch as motions for new trials, possible appellate review and appeals to the pardon board of which I am chairman may be made, it would be improper for me to express an opinion as to the justness of the verdict."

Taken To Prison
The 4 white youths convicted of raping a 19-year-old Negro coed were taken to the Raiford State Prison after a white male jury handed down the verdict at 12:35 a.m. Sunday.

Attorneys for the 4 have until June 29 to file motions for a new trial, first step in possible appeals.

Youth Fined $300 For Contributing To Delinquency
Bernard A. Brayman of the Lincoln Air Force Base pleaded guilty to a contributing to the delinquency charge and was fined $300 by County Judge Herbert A. Ronin.

Brayman, 21, was charged in connection with an incident involving a 13-year-old girl Saturday. Police said he fondled the girl.

The girl's mother, Betty Drew, 35, of room 215, 1548 O, also was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor but pleaded innocent. Her trial is set for June 24 and a $200 appearance bond was required.

Disease Causing Heavy Damage To Oat Fields In Eastern Area

Oat fields in the eastern quarter of Nebraska are being heavily damaged by cereal yellow dwarf, a disease found epidemic for probably the first time in the state, a University of Nebraska specialist revealed Monday.

Dr. John L. Weihing, Extension plant pathologist at the College of Agriculture, said many fields have a reddish cast and plants are stunted. There is no cure for the disease, which is transmitted by aphids, (green bugs). Symptoms of the disease have been noted by Extension agents in eastern Nebraska during the past two weeks.

K. E. Logan, agricultural statistician with the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics, Lincoln, noted that the eastern part of Nebraska is the state's principal oat-producing area.

The amount of damage varies from field to field because of the differences in time of infection and possibly differences in reaction among various varieties of oats. However, the disease is very destructive in certain areas, and may cause crop failure in localities hardest hit, Weihing commented.

Weather Favors Disease

Back of the cereal yellow dwarf attack are weather conditions favoring the aphid which spreads the disease, he explained.

In most seasons, heavy aphid populations do not build up in cereals in Nebraska. This insect migrates from southern regions in the spring. High temperatures are unfavorable for its development, and normally, weather conditions stop northern advance of the aphid before it gets to Nebraska. This spring, however, was ideal for its development because of prolonged cool temperatures.

Judge Rules 3 Defendants Must Pay City

Beatrice, Neb. — Gage County District Judge Ernest Hubka handed down final judgments in the taxpayers' suits filed by City Councilman Russell Arthur in 1957, naming 3 members of the board of public works.

Judge Hubka ruled that all 3 of the defendants must pay back sums collected from the city of Beatrice for merchandise while they were holding office as members of the board of public works.

Martin O. Trindel was ordered to pay $560.74 and costs of $223.65; August Sack was ordered to pay $171.95 plus costs of $41.30 and J. B. Weston was ordered to pay $966.60 plus interest of $112.42 and costs of $42.70. Trindel and Sack have resigned from the board since the suits were filed by Arthur.

Arthur had charged that the 3 violated their oaths of office and acted contrary to law in selling merchandise and services to the city while holding municipal offices.

3 Omahans Rescued In Boat Mishap

Walker, Minn. (AP) — A Wyoming man drowned in Leech Lake in a boat accident that plunged 7 persons, 3 of them children, into the water.

Life jackets and timely arrival of a resort fishing launch saved the lives of the others.

M. L. Rhoades, 34, of Cheyenne, Wyo., operator of the boat, drowned when his runabout, about 18 feet long and equipped with two powerful motors, swamped as the engines were throttled down.

His wife and two daughters, Betty Kay, 12, and Linda Sue, 11, and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hasenpflug of Omaha, and their daughter, Sandra Ann, 5, other occupants of the boat were cast adrift in life preservers.

John Boulcott, 40, Lee Lake resort man, who had taken a guest out to fish, saw the accident from a distance of three-fourths of a mile.

Boulcott speeded up his launch and made 8 swings while he and his passenger picked up the survivors bobbing in their life jackets.

Hardin Tells Boys State Responsibilities 3

By Charles Beal

"You have 3 principal responsibilities," University of Nebraska Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin advised a general assembly of delegates to Cornhusker Boys State Monday night.

"They are—to yourselves, to society and to the dignity of your own beliefs," the Chancellor said.

Hardin was the speaker for the installation of state, county and city officers who were elected at the general election Monday afternoon.

"Our society, through its governmental processes, has gone a long way toward providing opportunity for personal development, but the learning process itself, is 'largely a personal responsibility of the student,' Hardin said.

"You are on the threshold of an age in which technology and space travel and guided missiles command high attention and great respect," he told the youthful audience.

"It will be interesting to see how you eventually come to evaluate the importance of such things against the importance of your responsibility to yourself, to your society and to the dignity of your own beliefs," he added.

Board Okays Priorities For Hospital Monies

The State Health Board Monday approved priorities for federal hospital construction funds recommended by the State Hospital Advisory Council.

The Board also okayed the two-year state health plan which must be submitted to the U.S. Public Health Service detailing what the Health Department plans to do with federal monies.

It then recessed for the summer, scheduling its next meeting in September.

The priorities for Hill-Burton funds had been recommended May 26 by the Advisory Council.

Lincoln Hospital
General hospital construction aid, in order of priority, goes to Chadron Municipal; Boone County, Albion; Nebraska Methodist, Omaha; St. Elizabeth, Lincoln, and Children's Memorial, Omaha.

In addition, the Council had set aside $600,000 to complete the Bryan Memorial Hospital addition for which federal funds were authorized last year.

Nursing home priority went to the Bethany Old Peoples Home at Minden. Chronic disease federal money was approved for Perkins County Hospital, Grant, and Boone County Hospital, Albion.

Diagnostic federal funds go to Children's Memorial Hospital. Rehabilitation aid was recommended for Goodwill Industries, Omaha.

Victim's Condition Satisfactory After Overpass Crash

Norma Hall of 110 No. 46th was reported in satisfactory condition at a local hospital after being injured in a two-car accident on the Harris Overpass.

Police said Miss Hall, 27, suffered undetermined injuries when a car driven by Robert B. Budde, 33, of 3757 O, in which she was riding, was in collision with a car driven by John R. Mobley of 4900 J.

Police said the Budde car straddled the overpass' center island for more than 200 feet before the two cars collided. Budde told police he was not familiar with the overpass and did not know it had a center island.

Business Recovery Begins To Look Like Another Boom

Washington (AP) — The nation's mines, mills and factories poured out evidence last month that the business recovery is becoming a full-fledged boom.

Industrial production rose two points to a record high rate at 152% of the 1947-49 average, the Federal Reserve Board reported Monday.

The index climbed two points above the April rate which, the board announced, has been revised upward. The April gain was found to have been 3 points instead of the 2 points reported last month.

The board's national summary of business conditions said the index—a measure of physical production whose decline in 1957 foreshadowed the business slump, now stands 6 points, or 4%, above the pre-recession high. That was 146, recorded in February, 1957.

The reserve board's capsule review of the economy in May said:

"Expansion in industrial activity continued in May, employment increased further, and the decrease in unemployment was again considerably larger than seasonal."

"Consumer incomes and buying attained new highs, and business plans for plant and equipment outlays in 1959 were revised upward."

Especially encouraging gains were measured in the durable goods industries—autos, home appliances, machinery and metal products, but the reserve board noted that output of such non-durables as food, textiles, chemicals and paper continued to expand to new high ground.

"Production of farm machinery, motor trucks, and industrial and commercial equipment showed further gains," the board said.

"Output of household durable goods and autos also rose. Production of building materials and most nonferrous metals continued to increase.

"Steel mill operations, maintained at 93% of capacity in May, rose one additional percentage point in early June."

One adverse factor was reported: Housing starts in May dipped below the seasonally adjusted rate of the two preceding months.

Some economists believe housing already is feeling the pinch of tight credit and rising interest rates.

Mounting Shark Menace Blamed On Warming Waters

La Jolla, Calif. (AP)—Huge sharks have killed two Californians in 5 weeks. Why the menace? What can be done about it?

Experts say jagged tooth killers like the one that apparently devoured an experienced skin diver here Sunday have invaded the California coast because of a mysterious warming of Pacific waters.

"If the warming trend continues, we may expect to see dangerous sharks in increasing numbers," says John Fitch, research director of the California State Fisheries Laboratory at Terminal Island.

Another factor is the great increase in skin divers, who venture farther from shore than ordinary bathers.

The shark that killed Robert Pamperin, 33, Sunday was at first believed a white shark, later a tiger shark or a requiem shark. It may have been attracted into the cove where Pamperin was diving by blood from another diver who had gone ashore with a cut.

It was a big one, 12 feet or more. The body wasn't found. Experts said Pamperin probably was devoured.

No one knows just why the Pacific was warmed. Oceanographers have noted a rise of 5 or 6 degrees as far north as San Francisco.

Union Tough Is Sentenced

Sheboygan, Wis. (UPI)—Ex-union organizer John Gunaca was sentenced to up to 3 years in prison Monday for the 1954 beatings of two non-striking Kohler Co. employees.

Judge Clarence Rinehard imposed the sentence despite a prosecution plea for a lesser punishment against the former organizer for the United Auto Workers.

Rinehard said Gunaca, now a 35-year-old Detroit bartender, beat up William Bersch Sr. and his son in a Sheboygan Falls, Wis., service station July 4, 1954, to "serve as an example" to other non-striking Kohler workers.

Surprise Plea
Gunaca, who had evaded trial on the felonious assault charges for years by staying in Michigan, surprised the court at the outset of his trial by pleading no contest.

He showed no emotion when Rinehard sentenced him to prison.

The Gunaca case was a hangover from the early, violent days of the marathon strike against the plumbing-shware firm, located close to Sheboygan. The walkout is still on and has become the nation's longest major labor dispute.

Rail Policemen Using Cameras Against Vandals

Omaha (AP)—A top railroad policeman reported that his men are using cameras against train vandals.

Said John L. Hastings, superintendent of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe force of railway police, said when a train is a target for youngsters' rocks and BB guns, special agents with cameras ride through the troubled areas.

When a barrage begins the cameras "shoot" back to get evidence. Hastings said two-way radios are used to alert nearby auto patrols when a train is damaged while traveling through a known trouble spot.

Hastings added that "we show safety films and lecture on railroad hazards in schools all along our right-of-way. We feel confident that this has helped cut down the number of injuries."

Hastings is here to address the National Peace Officers Assn. conference.

98 Men Are Rescued From Blazing Vessel

... 10 Americans Aiding Cable Laying

London (AP)—Ninety-eight men, 10 Americans among them, were picked up from lifeboats 500 miles off the Irish Coast Monday after a fast-spreading fire made a torch of the British cable-laying ship Ocean Layer.

The blaze started in the engine room as the 4,534-ton vessel headed slowly for France straining behind it a trans-Atlantic cable which will give America its first direct telephone service with the European continent.

Fifteen minutes after sending his first SOS, Capt. A. MacPherson radioed he had been forced to give the order, "Abandon ship."

German Ship To Rescue
Just over an hour later the rescue ship, the 5,326-ton German freighter Flavia, reported she had picked up all aboard, including the 86 ship's crew and the 12 cable engineers of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

The British Coast Guards reported the German ship later put three men aboard the Ocean Layer. The fire was reported nearly out.

The German vessel reported the Ocean Layer was anchored by the cable she was laying.

Coast Guards said presumably the Flavia would stay alongside the cable ship and start salvage work Tuesday.

The Ocean Layer, a former German cargo ship taken as a prize by the British after World War II, was still burning hours after the rescue.

Sec. Benson Unable To Cope With REA, Declares Brock

Washington (AP)—Rep. Larry Brock (D-Neb.) said Monday the Rural Electrification Administration should be removed from Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson's jurisdiction.

He said Benson is "trying to strangle the REA by irresponsible statements."

Brock cited a recent statement he said Benson made at Cedar Rapids, Ia., that borrowers from the REA dip into the treasury at taxpayer's expense for millions of dollars per year for interest payments alone.

"That statement alone, without fact or foundation, is just another clear indication that he (Benson) is unfit to set policy for the REA," Brock said.

Government records, he said, show that in 10 of the 23 years of REA loan operations, rural electric borrowers paid substantially more interest on their loans than the average cost of money to the government and in 7 of the remaining years they paid rates equal to government costs.

Authorities located Carlson's smashed car near the creek bank 8 miles west of here.

Everson said Carlson apparently was thrown into the water in the crash. His body was carried downstream nearly two miles before his body wedged against rocks. His clothes had been torn off by boulders in the high-running creek.

DECLINE

New York (AP)—Weakness in copper and plywood shares featured a stock market which declined Monday on the small-volume since last August.

Volume slipped to 2,410,000 shares compared with 2,580,000 Friday and was the lightest since Aug. 29 when 2,260,000 shares were traded.

A cut in the price of copper at the custom smelter level, a further decline in copper scrap and pressure on prices in the futures market and the spot price in London accompanied the fall in share prices of copper producing companies.

The fall in plywood shares was preceded by news that prices of unsanded plywood had dropped sharply and also by news that home building slackened last month, running counter to the seasonal trend.

The market was dampened also by the fact that the new restrictions on margin accounts came into effect Monday, making traders think before making a quick deal. Generally, Wall Street saw the market as still in a consolidation phase.

The market had a slightly lower trend at the start then widened its losses as trading interest faded. A slight recovery late afternoon pulled the general price level above its worst. Rails wiped out gains and closed lower. Autos emerged slightly on the upside. Airlines and drugs also were higher on balance.

Auto, airlines, electronics and a wide assortment of issues declined. Steels were mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped 9 cents to $22.90 with 19 up and 41 down. The Dow Jones industrial average of 30 stocks dropped 1/2 cent to 1,000.00 with 15 up and 15 down.

Of 1,184 issues traded, 579 declined and 605 advanced. There were 19 new highs for the year and 14 new lows.

American Stock Exchange prices were mixed. Volume fell to 99,000 shares compared with 1,120,000 Friday. Gainers included Menasco, Crane Carrier and American Airlines. Losers were Virginia Iron, Coal & Coke, Mead Johnson and General Foods.

U.S. government bonds were mixed in quiet trading. The 2 1/2% of 1963 slipped 1/8 cent to 102.10. The 3 1/2% of 1964 rose 1/8 cent to 103.10.

The corporate market closed higher in more active trading. In vestment quality, industrials and foreign bonds led the rise. Rails and utilities were steady. Foreign dollar issues established a new high at 103.10. The 3 1/2% of 1964 rose 1/8 cent to 103.10.

Starkweather Petition To Court Wednesday

By Don Walton
A petition in behalf of Charles Starkweather will be filed in the U.S. Supreme Court Wednesday afternoon, his attorney said Monday.
The filing will automatically continue the convicted killer's stay of execution which is scheduled to expire on that day if further court action is not initiated.
Action on the petition will be taken either June 22 or June 29, attorney James J. Laughlin of Washington, D.C., told The Star by telephone.
The 9-member Supreme Court will be in session on those two dates preceding the usual summer recess, Laughlin said.
The attorney's petition for a writ of certiorari will contain "certain information" from Starkweather's father, Guy, "bearing on his (Charles') mental condition," Laughlin noted.

The information was transmitted to the attorney by letter from Lincoln.
A statement from the red-head stating that he is without funds will also be filed with the petition, Laughlin said.
That document, signed by Starkweather in his death cell at the State Penitentiary, will enable court action to continue "without cost," the attorney pointed out.
A similar statement has already been filed with the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis, Mo., Laughlin said, allowing the court to forward the record of Starkweather's appeal proceedings in that tribunal to Washington without cost.
The record, Laughlin pointed out, arrived in the U.S.

Supreme Court Monday morning.
Examine Proceedings
If the petition for a writ of certiorari is granted by the high court, it will then examine the record of the appeal proceedings in the lower court.
In that event, Starkweather's stay will continue pending judgment of the court. Judgment would not be forthcoming until October at the earliest, Laughlin estimated.

If the petition is denied, the stay terminates automatically.
In such event, Laughlin said, he will take immediate action in Nebraska state courts, probably raising constitutional questions.

Pigeon Pal
San Diego, Calif. (AP)—Stanley Burgi, 13, stayed awake all night to hatch a pigeon. He kept the egg, from which sounds of the baby's pecking were coming, warm in his hands. Stanley said the mother pigeon flew away and didn't come back to her nest. After the hatching, he took over the job of feeding with an eyedropper.

Thone's Visit May Be Step To GOP Reins

Charles Thone, administrative assistant to Sen. Roman Hruska, will be in Lincoln this week on a jaunt laden with political overtones, The Star learned Monday.
Thone is heir apparent to the position of Republican state chairman.
Richard E. Spelts Jr., of Grand Island has announced his intention to resign as chairman as soon as a capable successor can be found.
Thone's Nebraska trip, it was understood, will lay the groundwork for his probable nomination by the 86-member state central committee.
Thone will also prepare steps to establish a law office in Lincoln, it was learned.

Resolution Asks Labor Relations Act Investigation

A resolution proposing an interim study of the need for a state labor relations act in Nebraska was introduced in the Nebraska Legislature Monday.
The current Legislature adopted a bill banning secondary boycotts but rejected a state labor relations act proposed by Gov. Ralph Brooks.
The resolution noted that a legislative council committee which made studies leading up to the secondary boycott legislation also had recommended enactment of a state labor relations act.
The new resolution asks a study before the 1961 legislative session by a 5-member committee of senators of labor practices in the state and the need for a state labor relations act.
The resolution, 44th of the session, was introduced by Sens. John Munnelly of Omaha, Don Thompson of McCook, Harold Stryker of Rising City, Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, William Skarda of Omaha, Richard Marvel of Hastings and Edwin McHugh of Murdock.

State Fair Gate To Swing Open Sept. 5-90th Time

The gates will swing open on the Nebraska State Fair this year for the 90th time on September 5.

This year's fair, to run through September 11, will offer cash premiums of approximately $80,000 to Nebraska entry-winners. Fair Board Ed Schultz announced.

The fair will offer competition in 19 classes and scores of sub-classes, including the 4-H and FFA shows—but not including agricultural implements which now are a part of the industrial show.
